FRENCH AND BRITISH HOLD NEW POSITIONS WRESTED FROM ENEMY

Attacks on New French Line South of Aisne Repulsed; Enemy Foiled by Italians Southwest of Rheims; Over 300 Prisoners Taken by Americans

Paris, June 29.—German attacks on the front southwest of Soissons for the purpose of ejecting the French from positions taken by them on Thursday night were repulsed last night and the French line was held intact, the War Office reported this afternoon.

In addition to their attack on the front in the Soissons area, the Germans sent assault detachments against the lines held by the Italians on the Bligny heights, southwest of Rheims. The Italians drove off the German thrusts. Northwest of Montdidier, American troops took forty prisoners.

The text of the statement follows:
"Two German attacks for the purpose of retaking the positions south of the Aisne which were occupied by French troops on Thursday night were repulsed. An attack by a number of German battalions between Fosse-in-Bag and the Cutry ravine were repulsed along the new front and the French lines were held intact.

"Southwest of Rheims Italian troops engaged in a sharp combat with German troops on Bligny heights. German detachments which had succeeded in the moment in obtaining a foothold in the Italian first line were driven back.

"Along the French lines a number of surprise attacks were carried out during the night.

"Northwest of Montdidier American units captured forty prisoners, of whom one was an officer.

"In the forest of Apremont, in the Lorraine sector, French troops also took prisoners and material.

"The night was calm on the rest of the front."

British Report.
London, June 29.—In their successful attack in Flanders the British took more than 400 prisoners, the War Office announced to-day. Two German field guns, in addition to machine guns and trench mortars, also were captured in this attack.

The text of the statement follows:
"The total number of prisoners taken by us in yesterday's successful operation east of Nieppe Forest exceeded 400. This figure does not include those taken west of Merris. Two German field guns, in addition to a number of machine guns and trench mortars, also were captured by us.

"The hostile artillery has been active opposite Vaire Wood, south of the Somme, and west of Feuchy (Arras region).

"There has been increased artillery activity on both sides in the Nieppe Forest sector."

Americans Took Prisoners.
Washington, June 29.—Capture of 309 German prisoners and the destruction of three German aeroplanes by American aviators was reported by General Pershing in a communique to-day.

No Infantry Actions.
With the British Army in France, June 29.—(By the Associated Press).—Late last night and again early this morning the Germans put down vigorous barrages along the sector north of Merville, but no further infantry attack has been reported. Great fleets of British aeroplanes are constantly wheeling over hostile territory to-day, and conducting bitter warfare against the Germans.

Heavy artillery duels have been waged continually during the last twenty-four hours in the Merville region, where the British yesterday successfully surprised the Germans by a morning surprise attack. The prisoners secured in this operation now total nine officers and 292 of other ranks. Two field guns, twenty-two machine guns and one trench mortar also were taken by the British. The German losses in killed and wounded were very heavy.

Intense activity has been marking the work of the Royal Air Force. Prisoners stated that their casualties have been very heavy as the result of the aerial raids.

British Casualties.
London, June 29.—The British casualties reported during the month of June totalled 141,147. This was with total casualties reported during May of 165,802.

U. S. SENATORS SAY PROPOSAL OF HUGE ARMY IS SUPPORTED

Washington, June 29.—In disposing of amendments preparatory to passing the $12,000,000,000 army appropriation bill to-day, the Senate rejected by forty-five to nineteen an amendment proposing specifically to "direct" the President to raise an army of 5,000,000 men as soon as equipment and transportation can be provided.

Many Senators declared, however, that the vote did not really represent opposition in Congress to an army of such size and that the sentiment for a great expansion as soon as the War Department's plans permit was overwhelming.

FIRE AT NANAIMO.
Nanaimo, June 29.—The residence of D. Daily, on the townsite, was badly damaged by fire which broke out in the roof of the house soon after ten o'clock this morning. In spite of the fact that the brigade was quickly on the scene, the upper part of the house was practically burned out and the damage will run into many hundreds of dollars, only partially covered by insurance.

ADMIRALTY REPORTS MINOR SEA ACTION

Four British Destroyers Engaged Eight German Craft; Enemy Reinforced

London, June 29.—Four British torpedo boat destroyers fought a long-range engagement with a German destroyer force off the Belgian coast on Thursday evening. The action was broken off before any decisive results were attained, the Admiralty announced to-day in the following report:

"On Thursday evening four of our destroyers while patrolling off the Belgian Coast, sighted eight enemy torpedo boat destroyers. Our destroyers proceeded on an easterly course at full speed, engaging the enemy at long range.

"After the action had lasted a quarter of an hour, the enemy craft were joined by three more torpedo boat destroyers, whereupon our forces fell back on their supplies. The enemy did not follow and the action was then broken off. No damage was sustained by any of the vessels."

German Statement.
Berlin, June 29.—The Admiralty announced to-day that German torpedo craft of the Flanders flotilla engaged British destroyers on the evening of June 27 off Ostend. The clash took place while the German craft were out on patrol.

GREATER VICTORIA'S POPULATION IS 54,000

Official Registration Returns Almost Complete; 29,800 Registered in City

Total registrations in the Victoria district, embracing the city and the three contiguous municipalities up to June 22, and exclusive to those made to postmasters since that date, will be in the vicinity of 37,000.

The Times is able to make this estimate, the first published, by the courtesy of the various officers in charge of registration in this district. Victoria City, with eleven polls to hear from, stands at 29,800, and the neighboring municipalities are as follows: Saanich, 1,314 males and 1,746 females; Oak Bay, males 331, females 317; Esquimalt township, 1,462; Esquimalt riding (unorganized district), 1,084, with one poll to hear from, namely, Otter Point.

The municipal officials of the neighboring municipalities estimate that at least half their population registered is included in the city lists. The Saanich authorities place the percentage at over fifty, the urban polling places being deserted almost by males, and women number seventy-five and eighty per cent of the totals from these divisions.

The total registration to date for the city and three municipalities is 35,470, and the City Registrar looks for another 1,000 cards to be returned. The totals when checked should easily reach 31,000 in the city and 6,000 in the three municipalities.

The average of children under sixteen years of age to the total population in a civilized country is thirty-two per cent, and on this basis the population of the city and district is 54,121.

WASHINGTON TAKES OVER WHARVES OF TWO GERMAN LINES

Washington, June 29.—President Wilson, by proclamation to-day formally took over the wharves of the North German Lloyd and Hamburg-American S. S. Company at Hoboken.

BODIES RECOVERED.

Quebec, June 29.—Two bodies were taken out of the St. Lawrence yesterday, that of Miss Pradette and that of her little niece, Clair Samson, both of Lauson.

The two were drowned Friday last with a little boy, when it is surmised Miss Pradette jumped into the river in a fit of despondency and dragged the children in with her. The boy's body has not been recovered.

VICTOR AT THE POLLS IN YESTERDAY'S FIGHT; EX-PRIVATE F. GIOLMA

EX-PRIVATE GIOLMA WENT OVER THE TOP

Completely Vanquished Both Party Candidates Whose Deposits Are Gone

The Vote.

	Giolma	Langley	Perry	McDonald
Ward One	446	189	137	11
Ward Two	719	247	169	22
Ward Three	906	277	205	23
Ward Four	933	278	209	23
Ward Five	933	278	209	23
Totals	3,624	1,359	1,001	71

Spilled and rejected ballots, 51.
Total ballots cast, 6,106.

Ex-Private Francis William Henry Giolma, formerly of the 23rd Battalion, Canadian Expeditionary Force, is the member-elect for the Capital City of British Columbia. He succeeds the late Premier of the Province, the Hon. H. C. Brewster, whose untimely death at Calgary on March 1 last occasioned the by-election held yesterday. Mr. Giolma's victory over both Liberal and Conservative opponents was just as decisive as that secured by the worthy man whom he succeeded when the late Mr. Brewster and Mr. Plummerfelt contested the seat in March, 1916. The vote given to the official candidate of the various organizations in the city was proof, not only of the excellent organization work of the member-elect's comrades, but also went to show that the newly-admitted electorate recorded an almost solid vote for the hero of the Somme.

Elections More Uncertain.

Quite early in the day there were evidences, despite the small number of votes polled by one o'clock, that the decisive factor would be the women's vote. As the day wore on—and it was particularly noticeable at Ward Three polling station—the feminine army displayed an enthusiasm in the issue to be decided which has for all time placed an effective ban on successful speculation as to election results. With the promise suggested at nearly all meetings held in the interests of the member-elect that every by-election would henceforward be contested, yesterday's result provides a considerable amount of material for mental reflection.

Generally conceded that Mr. Giolma had an excellent chance of running out top the mere suggestion of both Liberal and Conservative candidates losing their deposits, however, would have been regarded as nothing short of preposterous earlier in the campaign. That such has now proved to be the case goes to show that the victor has the solid support of the service organizations in the city and that the assurance by the result Mr. Giolma will find a very great deal of satisfaction.

Notable Victory.

For many months it has been felt that the only way the returned men could place in their desires and their grievances before the Government of the Province in a manner calculated to be effective was by the selection and election of one of their number to a seat in the Legislature. This has been the chief argument advanced throughout the short campaign and the only difference in designation between the Liberal and official Returned Soldier candidate was the party affiliation of the war.

OTTAWA TAKES IMMEDIATE APPEAL AGAINST HABEAS CORPUS ORDER IN ALBERTA AFFECTING THE ARMY

Berlin Preparing to Send Troops Into Russia, Paper States

London, June 29.—The German Government, according to German newspapers, is taking preparatory measures with a view to intervention in Russia, says a dispatch to the Exchange Telegraph to-day from Zurich. Under this plan, it is stated, troops will be sent to restore order, assisted by Maximalist troops.

LAUSANNE PAPER RECEIVES WARNING

Swiss Authorities Say It is Too Outspoken in Criticism of Germany

Paris, June 29.—The Gazette of Lausanne, Switzerland, has again been warned by the Swiss Federal Chancellery in connection with its criticism of the Germans incorporated in its review of former United States Ambassador Gerard's book, "My Four Years in Germany." The newspaper has been notified that another article of the sort, characterized as compromising Swiss relations with Germany, will be most heavily punished. The warning cites the following passages of the introduction of the review as objectionable:

"One sees in the author the memoirs of an absolutely honest man required to live four years among knaves and other malefactors."

"But Germany always has violated divine right and human laws. Its lies, its inexcusable savagery and the relentless way in which it has destroyed the most beautiful monuments of the earth and with which it has burned precious libraries and museums have dishonored it forever. The world must destroy it, or the world is lost."

The Gazette received a similar warning on June 7, 1915.

The Paris Journal reproduces the warning without comment.

U. S. TROOPS POLICE PANAMA AND COLON

Washington Takes Action Under Treaty of 1904 to Maintain Order

Panama, June 29.—Upon orders from Washington, American troops began policing Panama and Colon at 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon. The action was taken under the treaty of 1904, which authorizes the United States to assume this duty whenever it is necessary to maintain order. The Panama Government has protested to Washington against the measure.

Because the former administration had refused to correct conditions in the two cities, the soldiers in the canal zone were forbidden to enter them, and the civilian employees threatened to boycott Colon and Panama City if the mandate of the military authorities was not carried out by the Panama Government.

Until After Elections.

Washington, June 29.—The protest from Panama over the policing of Colon and Panama by United States troops had not reached the State Department to-day. United States troops will remain in Colon and Panama, according to present intentions, until order is established and all the elections have been held.

JULY 4 HOLIDAY THROUGHOUT FRANCE

Warmth of Relations Between France and U. S. Indicated in Chamber

Paris, June 29.—Cheers greeted the announcement made in the Chamber of Deputies last evening that July 4 would be regarded as a legal holiday in France. All party lines were obliterated and the plaudits were unanimous from all parts of the Chamber. It was one of the most impressive demonstrations that had been seen in the French Chamber since the beginning of the war.

Forewarned of the motion the Deputies had gathered in larger numbers than at any other time since the beginning of hostilities with the possible exception of the assemblage on June 4, when Premier Clemenceau made his famous speech regarding the German offensive on the Chemin-des-Dames.

Minister of Justice Will Act With Vigor to Uphold Validity of Order-in-Council Removing Right of Exemption Under Military Service Act

Ottawa, June 29.—The Minister of Justice has issued instructions to appeal immediately against the decision of the Appellate Division of the Supreme Court of Alberta in the case of Lewis. The appeal, it is announced, will be prosecuted with vigor.

The appeal to be entered will be against an order by the Appellate Division of the Supreme Court of Alberta yesterday granting habeas corpus to Earl Lewis as the result of proceedings recently brought by R. B. Bennett, K. C., ex-M. P. Lewis has been drafted for military service. His release by way of habeas corpus was sought on the ground that the Order-in-Council under which he was drafted was unconstitutional.

Calgary, June 29.—In connection with the decision handed down by the Appellate Division of the Supreme Court of Alberta granting the application made by R. B. Bennett, K. C., for habeas corpus for Earl Lewis, it is stated that only a comparatively small number of drafted soldiers in Alberta are now affected, as the majority of those who would have come under the ruling had it been made earlier have been removed from the province. It is further stated that civil action for damages may be taken by the parties interested, if they so desire, against those responsible for what the Alberta Appeal Court has ruled to be illegal detentions.

It is announced that R. B. Bennett will fight the appeal of the Federal authorities through the Privy Council if the action is taken that far.

TROOPS FROM U. S., MOSTLY SPECIAL UNITS, LANDED IN ITALY TO SHARE IN FIGHT

Washington, June 29.—The first American troops landed in Italy yesterday, General March, Chief of Staff, announced to-day. These are not the forces sent by General Pershing, but consist of units shipped from this country. The troops consist largely of sanitary units, but include other special organizations, General March explained. On the whole, however, the force is made up mostly of non-combatant units. The combat troops will be sent by General Pershing as previously announced.

General March had no announcement to make to-day as to the total number of troops shipped from this country to France. Formal announcement, he said, would be made later.

Surveying the entire battlefield, Gen. March said the situation could be said to be extremely favorable to the Allies. He would make no comment upon the indications of an impending German attack.

The first United States national army division has taken up a sector of the front in France, Gen. March also announced. It is the 77th, raised in New York, trained at Camp Upton and originally commanded by Major-General J. Franklin Bell. It was taken across under Major-General Johnson.

Training Completed.

Five American divisions which had been brigaded with the British forces for training have been returned to General Pershing's command with their training completed. One of these is the 35th Division, composed of Kansas and Missouri troops, and commanded by Major-General William M. Wright when it left the United States.

Commenting upon the return to General Pershing's command of these divisions, General March said it showed clearly the success of the plan for using all facilities to give American units their final polishing. It would not have been possible otherwise, he indicated, to have secured so large a trained force under Gen. Pershing in so short a time.

Austrian Reverse.

General March disclosed that the official reports from the Italian front place the number of Austrians captured at 18,000 and a large amount of war material. The line of the Piave has been entirely restored by the Italians and in some places has been slightly advanced.

Military opinion, General March said, found the Austrian attack faulty, because it was spread over so large a front as to make it impossible to carry through successfully.

Aids Morale.

The Austrian disaster which followed is valuable to the Allies not only in a military sense, but psychologically, the Chief of Staff said, because of its stimulating effect upon Italian morale both among the civil population and the army.

The practical result in prisoners and guns taken also was, of course, valuable. So far there has been no information to confirm reports, General March said, that German troops were being sent to back up the Austrians.

Havana, June 29.—President Menocal, according to reports in circulation, has prepared a letter announcing his withdrawal from the Conservative Party, of which he is the head. VICTORIA CROSSES AWARDED TO ELEVEN

Most Outstanding Heroism
Was That of Pte. Beesley, of Rifle Brigade

London, June 29.—(Via Reuter's Ottawa, Agency.)—The London Gazette announces the award of eleven Victoria Crosses. Nearly all the recipients are from English county regiments. One of the Crosses goes to a member of a Canadian regiment.

The stories record, as usual, super bravery, mostly in attack, of which the following are examples: Second-Lieut. Schofield, of the Lancashire Fusiliers, with nine men, by great daring and by clever dispositions, captured 140 Germans.

Sergt. Woodall, of the Rifle Brigade, single-handed captured a machine gun and effecting the retreat, collected ten of his own men and captured a farm and thirty more prisoners.

But perhaps the most remarkable story recorded is that of the death of Pte. Beesley, of the Rifle Brigade. When all the officers and non-commissioned officers of his unit had been killed in attack, Pte. Beesley took command of the company, led an assault and captured single-handed an enemy post, killed two Germans at their machine gun and then shot dead an officer who tried to take their place. Three more officers came out of a dugout, Beesley shot one who attempted to destroy a map. Beesley seized the map and made prisoners of the other two officers. Four more officers came out, and these Beesley also disarmed and then sent back as prisoners. A comrade then brought up a Lewis gun, which Beesley used with great effect against the retreating enemy. Pte. Beesley was now alone with his comrade, but they held the position for four hours under heavy fire. The enemy then advanced to counter-attack. Pte. Beesley's comrade was wounded. Nevertheless, Beesley with his Lewis gun kept back the enemy until long after the posts on his left had been wiped out. When darkness fell, Beesley moved back to the original line, bringing with him his wounded comrade and the gun. He then mounted the gun and kept it going against the enemy until things had quieted down. The Gazette says his indomitable pluck, skilful shooting and good judgment in economizing ammunition stamp this incident as one of the most brilliant in recent operations.

KUEHLMANN'S WORDS AIMED AT PACIFISTS IN ENTENTE COUNTRIES

London, June 29.—Lord Robert Cecil, Minister of Blockade, in a statement yesterday afternoon characterized the recent speech of Dr. von Kuehlmann, German Foreign Secretary, as vague in phraseology and intended to appeal to the pacifist element in the countries at war with Germany.

Lord Robert intimated that his analysis of von Kuehlmann's remarks was that of the British Government. He had recognized the speech as being "directed largely in all countries, especially Britain, to encourage those who may be inclined to be war-weary to believe that tolerable terms might be secured, and that, if these terms were not accepted, the war would go on indefinitely."

Lord Robert pointed out that von Kuehlmann, understanding somewhat the British mind, had been careful not to threaten, but had mentioned the German gains in the East.

Lord Robert indicated that he regarded the Foreign Secretary's remarks as merely another chapter in German hypocrisy and that his references to the freedom of the seas and to colonial possessions and other terms named were too vague and indistinguishable to discuss.

PEMBERTON-BILLING HEARD FROM AGAIN

London, June 29.—Noel Pemberton-Billing, whose activities include a crusade against all persons of German origin in the United Kingdom, attacked Sir Albert Stanley, President of the Board of Trade, in the House of Commons last evening. He elicited the reply that Sir Albert's family name is Knatterley, that he is from Derbyshire, and has no foreign blood. Mr. Pemberton-Billing put the following question to Rt. Hon. Andrew Bonar Law, the Government spokesman in the House of Commons: "Is the President of the Board of Trade a German of the name of Knatterley, and does he hold his position through the influence of a German who is now working out the damnation of this country in America?"

Mr. Bonar Law replied that he knew Sir Albert Stanley had no German blood or connections. Sir Albert promptly explained the matter to the House. He said that his father and mother had been born in Derbyshire, and that the family was English for many generations back and had no trace of foreign blood. Knatterley was an old English name, but very difficult to pronounce, hence his parents had changed it after he had resided for some years in America. This statement was greeted with cheers and laughter.

COST OF ADVERTISING RECENT VICTORY LOAN

Canadian Press Received One-Twentieth of One Per Cent. of Subscriptions

Toronto, June 29.—Various estimates have been made as to the amount the press of Canada received from the Government in connection with the press publicity for the recent Victory Loan, but the actual figures paid were clearly set forth in audited statements submitted to the annual meeting of Canadian Press Association, Inc., just held in Toronto.

The total amount paid by the Government for advertising space was $165,419.81, which was distributed among 1,400 newspapers and other publications. Approximately $5,000 was spent in the preparation and distribution to the press of a large number of special articles, illustrations, cartoons, etc., which were inserted in the press without charge. The setting of type and making of duplicate plates of the advertisements for the various publications used and the fees paid to the five co-operating advertising agencies for their services cost in the neighborhood of $17,000, making the total expenditure $209,169.81.

As the total cost of floating the Loan was approximately $5,000,000, the Government's expenditure on press publicity represents less than five per cent. of the total expenditure. It is interesting to note also that the press publicity cost only one-twentieth of one per cent. of the total amount subscribed to the Loan.

Much Work.
The press publicity for the Loan was handled by Canadian Press Association, Inc., and the officers of the Association and its individual members co-operated splendidly in making the campaign a success. During three months last fall most of the time of the president, J. H. Woods, of The Calgary Herald, and the office staff, was devoted to the press publicity campaign, and for several weeks the committee of publishers in charge was in almost continuous session. The individual members of the other hand, contributed, without charge, space in their newspapers and other publications which, if calculated at their regular commercial rates, would run up to more than the total amount paid for the advertising space.

Neither the Canadian Press Association, Inc., nor any of its officers or committees received any remuneration for their services in connection with the Loan, those services being given voluntarily and in the spirit of national service.

TEUTON PRISONERS PREVENTED RETURNING BY CZECHO-SLOVAKS

Moscow, June 29.—Owing to the Czecho-Slovak outbreak, with the complete stoppage it has brought about of traffic on the Trans-Siberian Railway and on a goodly portion of the Eastern Railway, the German plans to rush war prisoners homeward are failing of realization.

In the area affected by the Czecho-Slovak military operations, extending from Samara, on the Volga, to Novo Nikolaevsk, beyond Omsk, there are about 300,000 able-bodied German and Austrian prisoners—200,000 in Siberia, 45,000 in Turkestan and the remainder in the Provinces of Perm and Orenburg. Of that number there are about 17,000 officers, whom the Austrians are particularly eager to repatriate. More than half the number of prisoners are employed in the mines, in factories or in the fields. Several hundred thousand were similarly engaged in the Ukraine and in the Don region, when the German advance set them free.

MANY OFFICERS ON LEAVE WILL REMAIN IN THIS COUNTRY

Winnipeg, June 29.—A special dispatch to The Winnipeg Free Press from its Ottawa correspondent says: "Many officers now on leave in Canada will not be compelled to return. By an arrangement recently made, officers home on 'compassionate' leave are turned over to the Adjutant-General's disposal here, and struck off the strength of the overseas forces. These include men who have been allowed to come on leave for domestic reasons or for other reasons designated 'compassionate' leave."

"There are no more coming, leave for any reason whatever now being refused overseas. "Such men instead of being responsible to the overseas organization, will be at the disposal of the authorities here. Some will be placed in charge of depot battalions, some will be put on instructional work and some may again be sent overseas."

SEVERAL CANADIANS HELD IN GERMANY

London, June 29.—The following Canadians held prisoners in Germany are reported: Major A. D. Carter; Lieuts. D. A. McDonald and G. A. Cloutier; Pte. (2173419) H. Hogan; Pte. (2691) A. M. Thomas; Pte. (745037) H. R. Carter; Pte. (25324) T. Love; Pte. (550456) F. C. Bushnell; Pte. (425724) W. W. Mackie; Pte. (2115475) C. H. Hansen, and Corporal (648) B. J. Akerstream.

CAPT. A. C. MACAULEY PROVOST-MARSHAL OF WINNIPEG DISTRICT

Winnipeg, June 29.—Captain A. C. Macauley, the man who was in charge of the raid on the Jesuit Novitiate College at Guelph, which has raised such a stormy controversy, is to be the new provost-marshal of Military District No. 10, it is stated.

GERMAN PRESSURE IN ROUMANIA
Amsterdam, June 29.—A royal decree has been issued at Bucharest, says The Koelnische Volks Zeitung, pardoning all German staff officers in Roumania, who are being prosecuted or have already been convicted for offences committed with the intention of helping their fatherland or infringing special laws against enemy subjects.

HABEAS CORPUS IN NON-EXEMPTION CASES

Granted Man at Calgary and Half Dozen Men at Montreal

Calgary, June 29.—An order was issued here yesterday by the Appellate Division of the Supreme Court of Alberta, granting habeas corpus to Lewis, in the application touching the cancellation of exemptions under the Military Service Act recently brought by B. B. Bennett, K.C. The order was stayed for two weeks pending a possible appeal. Chief Justice Harvie dissented from Justices Simmon, Stuart, Hyndman and Beck, who were in favor.

At Montreal.
Montreal, June 29.—Mr. Justice Bruneau announced here yesterday that he would issue writs of habeas corpus on the petitions presented by counsel on behalf of some half-dozen men, not British subjects, who complain that they are illegally detained in military barracks. There was no doubt in the court's mind that the right of habeas corpus existed, that the Order-in-Council attacked by counsel did not suspend the right and that the objections now raised on the constitutionality or otherwise of the order properly belonged to the period when the writs would be returned for judgment on their merits.

Acting for the Minister of Justice in the case, P. B. Mignault, K.C., contended that the Order-in-Council does not apply to persons not British subjects, and that the Government never contemplated forcing foreigners to serve in the Canadian army. Mr. Mignault stated that against what had been asserted by the attorneys for the petitioners, the order passed under the War Measures Act was not an act of the Executive, but an act of Parliament itself, which had transferred its powers to the Governor-General-in-Council in adopting the War Measures Act. Counsel contended that Article 91 of the British North America Act would bear out his assertion on this subject.

Those who failed to live up to the measures must take the consequences, argued Mr. Mignault, and according to the contention of the Department of Justice, the Superior Court, in the present instance, should declare that the petitioners' detention and arrest were legal and should be maintained until such time as the Minister of Militia could take cognizance and adjudicate their status.

BITES TAKEN BY BRITISH AND FRENCH

British Advanced East of
Nieppe Forest and French
South of Aisne

London, June 29.—Field-Marshal
Haig reported last night:

"This morning English troops carried out a successful operation on a front of about three and a half miles east of the Nieppe forest (between Baillet and Bethune). Our line on this front has been advanced to an average depth of nearly a mile, and more than 300 prisoners and twenty-two machine guns have been captured. All our objectives were gained, including the hamlets of L'Epinet, La Verte Reu and La Becque. The enemy was taken by surprise, and our casualties were light."

"At the same hour Australian troops attacked and captured certain hostile posts west of Merris, together with forty-three prisoners and six machine guns."

"On the remainder of the British front the situation is unchanged."

In the Air.
"Aviation—A full day's work was done Thursday by our reconnaissance, photographic and artillery aeroplanes. There was some increase in hostile activity in the air, and more fighting occurred."

"Twenty German aeroplanes were destroyed and nine driven down out of control. Fourteen of ours are missing. Bombing was carried out vigorously beyond the German lines. Twenty-one tons of bombs were dropped during the twenty-four hours, on railway junctions and other targets."

Bombing Raids.

A statement issued by the Air Ministry yesterday afternoon said:
"Some of our aeroplanes on the night of June 27-28 successfully attacked the enemy's aerodrome at Bolchen (German Lorraine, fifteen miles northeast of Metz). Bombs were released at low altitudes and machine guns were fired into hangars. All our machines returned safely."

"Enemy aeroplanes bombed one of our aerodromes last night, but did no material damage."
"This afternoon some of our aeroplanes attacked the workshops, stations and sidings at Thionville (German Lorraine). Observation was difficult, but direct hits were seen to have been made on the works. Nearly three tons of bombs were dropped."

"Our formations were attacked by hostile aeroplanes. Severe fighting ensued, during which three enemy aeroplanes were destroyed and a number were driven down. Three of our machines did not return."

French Gained.

Paris, June 29.—The following official report was issued here last night:
"South of the Aisne French troops attacked this morning, from the south of Amblemy to the east of Montrobert (southwest of Soissons), in order to acquire armed places on a seven-kilometre (four-and-a-half-mile) front. Our men entered German works, took the fosses above Laverne and the heights northwest of Cutry and advanced our lines near the west of St. Pierre Aigle and also on the hill south of the village."

"Our advance reached at some points a depth of two kilometres (about a mile and a half). We have taken until now 1,000 prisoners."

Aerial Operations.

"Aviation—On June 26-27 twenty German aeroplanes were brought down or put out of action, and four captive balloons were burned. Our bombing squadrons in the same period, during the day and night, dropped fifty-eight tons of projectiles on aviation grounds along the Somme and Aisne and on cantonments and bivouacs at Rosieres-en-Santerre, Fismes and Guignicourt and the stations of Soissons, Eper-en-Tardenois and other places. Two munitions depots were exploded and several fires were observed."

German Statement.

Berlin, June 29.—Via London, June 29.—An official statement issued here this evening says:

"North of the Lys and south of the Aisne we are fighting to repulse vigorous enemy partial attacks."

"Strong flying forces have been brought into action, leading to violent aerial combats. Yesterday our aviators shot down twenty-five aeroplanes and one captive balloon, and our anti-aircraft guns shot down five aeroplanes."

Surprise for Enemy.

With the British Army in France, June 29.—Via London, June 29.—(By the Associated Press.)—Field-Marshal von Hindenburg's troops east of the Forest of Nieppe got a nasty and unexpected knock to-day when British troops suddenly drove forward in a surprise attack along a front of more than three miles and hurled the startled grey-coated soldiers back to an average depth of 1,500 yards."

The operation was an unqualified success from its inception, and the attacking infantry reached all their objectives in a remarkably short time. By this thrust the British not only have greatly improved their position in this important and much-contested sector, which lies just north of Morville, but they inflicted heavy punishment on two hostile divisions that were holding the line here—the thirty-second division of Saxons and the forty-fourth reserve division of Prussians."

Many Germans Killed.

Large numbers of the enemy were killed in the hurricane onslaught, and 250 of the more fortunate had been collected in the prison cages before the front of the British advance."

The front of attack was 6,000 yards in length, and lay approximately between Vieux-Berquin on the north and Pont Tournai, which is 2,000 yards northwest of Morville, on the south. As a special feature of the programme, Australian troops on the left carried out an attack of their own, adding nearly half a hundred prisoners to the bag."

The morale of the captured Germans was not high. These men and others captured recently expected to get ahead much faster."

These men professed to believe that the United States was not going to be able to render much assistance to the Allies. The helplessness of the United States is being preached assiduously to the troops by the German high command, and had its effect among the men in the trenches. The Frenchmen, however, are naturally, it is different, for they have no delusions on the subject."

COWICHAN CHAPTER OF I. O. O. E. MEETS

Duncan, June 29.—At this week's meeting of the Imperial Cowichan Chapter of the Daughters of the Empire Mrs. Blackwood-Wileman read an interpretation of the meaning of "Our Badge," written by Mrs. A. McC. Crilley, of Vancouver, which was full of interest.

Mrs. Hasell, provincial secretary, gave an account of some of the proceedings at the annual meeting of the National Chapter recently held in Toronto. Several resolutions were heard with much pleasure, among them one petitioning the Government to organize a Women's Auxiliary Army Corps throughout Canada, and another adding a white bar to the class already instituted and worn by mothers and wives of soldiers overseas—the white bar to be worn by mothers of girls who are emulating the men in courage and fortitude in active service under fire. Approximately 400 nurses under fire or by drowning have already made the supreme sacrifice. It was noted with pride that in the recent raids in hospitals in France "not a woman left her post."

The reports from the provinces were splendid. British Columbia had doubled her returns this year and was almost in line with Saskatchewan and Manitoba, said Mrs. Hasell.

The membership of the Cowichan Chapter is now twenty and there are many inquiries. The motto is "Let Love and Loyalty Prevail."

TO-MORROW'S SERVICES.

We invite the attention of our readers to the message on the front page of The Times from the representatives of the city churches to the people of Victoria regarding the nature of the religious services to-morrow. By Royal Proclamation the day has been set apart as one of prayer and intercession throughout the Empire for Divine guidance and aid in these soul-trying times.

The occasion is a timely reminder of the futility of human aims and intentions which leave out the Creator, and that while man may propose God still disposes and will do so to the end of the human chapter. Nations in whole or in part, under the impulse of vanity and folly, often wander from the path they should tread, but if they maintain their sacred communication with their Creator and strive to comport themselves uprightly, humanely and justly they will pass through every trial and peril safely. That is the oldest lesson taught by history, but it is necessary that it should be solemnly emphasized from time to time.

THE BY-ELECTION.

There was no room for "ifs" or "buts" in the contemplation of Mr. Gilmour's victory. He gained all his objectives, the seat, his adversaries' deposits and an aggregate vote larger than the combined totals against him with reserves to spare. His strategy was skilful, reflecting his journalistic experience with political warfare, his methods were clean, and the work of his staff was efficient. The Times, although it opposed him, joins with his opponents in congratulating him on his victory.

It justly cannot be said, however, that the Provincial Government or its policy was the issue of the campaign. Indeed, for the most part, the successful candidate's platform concerned the Government at Ottawa, and if the result indicated want of confidence it was in the Administration led by Sir Robert Borden rather than in that of the Hon. John Oliver. Pension, separation allowances, aliens, the Patriotic Fund and kindred matters affecting soldiers, their dependents and the war, are national duties and in the Canadian Parliament are Ministers specially charged with most of them. Ottawa has even assumed the chief share of responsibility for the settlement of soldiers on the land and has established a Board for the purpose. As to the urgency of these matters there can be no dispute. This paper has urged them repeatedly upon Ottawa and it hopes the authorities there will draw some inspiration from yesterday's decision.

The Provincial Government will co-operate with the Dominion authorities in those aspects of the problems in which it is able to be of assistance, and Mr. Gilmour's advice undoubtedly will carry much weight in the Legislature. But, as his remarks last night indicated, he appreciates the limitations within which the local authorities are confined, and those who are anticipating extraordinary results from his election will save themselves considerable disappointment if they try to appreciate them, too.

The new member knows, also, that whatever may be his designation he will be in a general sense a representative of the whole community, not of any one section of it, except, of course, in regard to matters which most intimately concern returned soldiers. With his brother Legislators he will have to deal with numerous vital, fundamental matters without the satisfactory disposition of which British Columbia with all its natural endowments would not be a fit place to live in. The questions of finance, administration of justice, the public health and morals, education, labor, development of resources, and railroads require prompt, honest and capable handling, for they affect every man, woman and child in the country. The alternative is confusion and chaos, bankruptcy and ruin.

Major Langley has nothing to regret in the way in which he conducted his campaign. He fought a manly, clean fight which won the respect of his opponents. Mr. Perry also accepted his fate with admirable spirit. Good losers press good winners closely for first place in the estimation of the public, and even the ladies who contributed so largely to the victor's total, probably will admit that the vanquished are "real, nice men." It would have been more to the credit of the electorate, however, if it had reflected a greater interest in the election in a larger vote. Less than a third of those entitled to vote went to the polls. The franchise should not be lightly held. It has been consecrated with the blood and tears of millions. It is democracy's most precious charter and its exercise is an insistent public duty. Which candidate the recreant ones would have voted for yesterday is aside from the question. They should have voted.

A NEW AND NOVEL THEORY.

Joseph Debar, of Cincinnati, President of the National Association of Distillers and Wholesale Dealers, sees in the Russian revolution the sequel to the prohibition of vodka drinking by the late dynasty at Petrograd. According to this unique philosopher, the Czar wrought his own ruin by signing that ukase; if he had not done this he would still have been on the Throne, Russia would have remained a united, vigorous ally, the West Front would not have been subjected to so much hammering. In fact, we infer, the war would have been won for the Allies long before this, and millions of lives would have been saved.

Most people have thought that the origin of the Russian revolution lay in centuries of repression and tyranny. They thought it was the land-hunger of many generations reinforced by bread-hunger and German propaganda which brought about the upheaval. Now, they know all about it from the Cincinnati distilling magnate. The Russian people did not want land, bread, freedom or any such nonsense as that; they wanted vodka. The lesson is as plain as a pikestaff. Unless the prohibition laws of this continent are repealed there will be a similar upheaval. The people will rise in their might and demand their Scotch, their Bourbon, their cock-tails, their Budweiser and Rainier, and will raise Cain until they get it. Thus warns the patriotic, foresighted and sagacious head of the distillers' trust. But there is one tiny omission found in his argument. He forgot to mention that the excesses in the Russian revolution did not begin, strangely enough, until the Soviets proclaimed free booze together with the freedom of everything else.

KERENSKY IN LONDON.

Possibly Alexander F. Kerensky, who is now in London, could not have averted the Russian debacle, for the collapse of the Romanoff dynasty let loose forces and created aspirations in an ignorant people which perhaps no single individual or hastily-constructed organization could control. But Kerensky, who was one of the chief promoters of the revolution, made no effective attempt to control them. On the contrary, he encouraged them by compromising with anarchy, by sharing his authority with Soviets and thereby paralyzing discipline. He simply gave the pendulum a shove towards chaos.

Like most men of his kind, Kerensky, as The London Express aptly described him, proved to be a man of words, not of action. He tried to meet critical situations which called for immediate strong measures with glib formula, text-book theory and eloquent phrases. Deaf to the advice of the army leaders, he threw discipline to the winds until it was too late to restore it, and the army naturally became a mob. He set the stage for crazy and crooked Bolshevism, just as Vergniaud, Desmoulins and other eloquent tribunes of 1789 set the stage for Jacobinism in France.

The pendulum swung from Czarism to Bolshevism, from tyranny directed by the Romanoff bureaucracy to tyranny directed by the Bolshevik autocracy, with the difference that whereas under the first Russia at least was intact and there was some security for life and property, under the second Russia has shrunk to a mere fraction of its former size, and that fraction is not even self-sustaining, while thuggism is rampant. Czarism betrayed Roumania and Bolshevism finished its work. Czarism tyrannized over Poland, and to-day a Czarow newspaper publishes the details of a secret treaty between the Bolsheviks and the Germans under which the two have joined together to crush the national aspirations of that unhappy country. The Petrograd reactionaries of the old regime conspired to cripple the army so that it would become easy prey to the Teutons; the Bolsheviks completed the work to perfection, and made Russia so impotent that less than 300,000 landsturmiers are required for her enslavement to Berlin.

There is nothing new or novel in the Kerensky episode in Russia. There are Kerenskys all over the world. We have them in Canada. They think the world can be reformed with phrases. And a great many of the world-reformers cannot run their own affairs satisfactorily for a day. Paralysis of industry, starvation in the midst of plenty, and wholesale demoralization are the inevitable consequences of their activities in communities foolish enough to listen to them. They are the natural, though unconscious, allies of the I. W. W.'s, just as Kerensky was the unwitting, but terribly effective, ally of Bernstein and Ulanoff, or, as they now call themselves, Trotsky and Lenine. Kerensky, however, has had his lesson, and if he had his way over again he would act differently. He may yet have his chance.

No, kind reader, that was not a bargain rush you saw yesterday. It was an army of fair supporters of the victorious candidate going "over the top" and storming the defences of his rivals.

There are approximately 20,000 people entitled to vote in this city and less than a third went to the polls. Sometimes we wonder if there will be as much lethargy and indifference in this city when Gabriel blows his trumpet.

ADVICE TO IRELAND.

WOULD ROB HALIFAX OF ITS IMPORTANCE

If Ships With Explosives Were Barred Naval Base Would Be Moved

Halifax, June 29.—Mayor Hawkins has received a reply from Deputy Minister Desbarats to his telegram to the Naval Department at Ottawa protesting against allowing ships laden with high explosives to proceed up Halifax Harbor to Bedford Basin for anchorage. The Deputy Minister, after quoting from a letter on the same subject written by Mr. Ballantyne, Minister of Marine and Fisheries, to P. F. Martin, M.P., when he was Mayor of Halifax, says:

"If your request were acceded to, it would mean the removal of the Atlantic naval base from Halifax to some other port and the building at this other harbor of the repair and other shipping facilities which the Government is now endeavoring to have established at Halifax. As almost every ship sailing from Canada for the seat of war now carries high explosives, as does also every warship, your proposal would result in all these ships avoiding the Harbor of Halifax. I can hardly imagine that you wish to bring about such a condition of affairs."

MR. WILSON WISHES AMUNDSEN SUCCESS

U. S. President Sends Message to Explorer as He Leaves for North Pole

Christiania, May 29.—Before he left here for Tromsø to join the ship Maude, which he plans will take him and his North Pole expedition into the Arctic regions, Capt. Amundsen received a cable message from President Wilson, through Secretary of State Lansing, extending to the explorer the best wishes of the head of the American Government.

Captain Amundsen plans to follow the Siberian coast eastward from North Cape. He is particularly familiar with this region of the Arctic, having in 1906 discovered the Northwest Passage. He built the ship Maude after a new and unique design. The ship is so constructed that no point of her hull will present the convex surface of an arc to the pressure of ice. Crude oil will be used as fuel and Captain Amundsen hopes to make the greater portion of the northern trip by sail. In addition to other equipment the ship carries two aeroplanes, in which the explorer may complete his journey to the Pole.

Captain Amundsen, who was decorated by the German Kaiser for returning the Northwest Passage, discovered the decorations last October as "a personal protest against the German murders of peaceful sailors in the North Sea."

NOTE OF WARNING SOUNDED BY BANKS

Ottawa's Requirements for War Should Take Precedence Over Unessentials

Montreal, June 29.—"It is clear that if the war requirements of the Government are to be financed without undue expansion of banking activities," says a circular issued from the office of the president of the Canadian Bankers' Association, "not only must there be some reduction of existing credits, but there will have to be applied a rigid check upon the further expansion of credit in directions not clearly essential for the prosecution of the war and the health and necessity of the people."

FORTUNES FROM BONES.

"Hundreds of thousands of pounds' worth of bones are destroyed in the course of a year," declared an expert, recently.

"Not more than twenty-five per cent of the nation's supply of bones is way to proper use. Food, explosives, fertilizers can be extracted from bones. Those straight from the butcher's shop contain twelve per cent of edible fat. Even those the housewife has boiled yield seven per cent of fat when treated in bulk by a digester."

"Fat not eatable can, of course, be made into glycerine for explosives. Shank bones can be made into buttons or knife handles, but the great majority are of value for manufacturing gelatine. After the fat or gelatine is extracted the residue, crushed into bone powder and containing phosphates of lime and ammonia, may be used as a fertilizer. The latter product is worth to-day £12 to £14 a ton."—Tit-Bits.

A VAIN AUSTRIAN GERRYMANDER

The German Austrians are making a belated attempt to Germanize Bohemia by an administrative and parliamentary gerrymander, intended to put power in that country into the hands of the German minority. It will not come, for the Czech spirit is not thoroughly aroused, and is entirely convinced that it can never gain its rights through Austrian dominion. For centuries Bohemia has been a great Slavonic island in the midst of German populations. Politically it has been dominated by German power. It has nevertheless remained Slavonic in language, in culture and in spirit. The present attempt to restrict representation largely to the German minority in the country will serve merely to inflame the Czechs to further resistance.—Boston Transcript.

IS NO LIMIT TO SACRIFICE

French People Will Fight to Last Man to Achieve Their Aim

Henri Bergson, the French philosopher, spoke to-day of the war-time philosophy of Paris under the resumption of the big battle and with the long-distance bombardment shells exploding, writes a correspondent of The New York Times. I met him by chance in the street. He recalled the fact that I gave him the first news of the Russian revolution in March, 1917, in New York. He talked freely, walking along the bank of the Seine.

"Paris is not the same to-day as in August, 1914," he said. "You see no excitement now, but you feel and are sure of much more determination to win than in the first wild demonstration of patriotism when the war began. It is better this way, more dependable. That first mental state was too intense to endure."

No Public Fear.
"To-day you see Paris itself under bombardment and the great battle resuming without a trace of public fear or excitement. Men are still going off to the war every day, but now it is a matter of course to the men themselves and their families. They are heroes still, but no longer cheered by frantic crowds in the streets."

"There is great assurance for the national safety for the future in this dogged calmness. It is not indifference, but the ever-growing strength does not depend on shouting to keep increasing."

"Now that the lull in the big battle is over, we are more ready for new fighting than the enemy. The interval of quiet was of more use to us than to the Germans. We could have gone on without the lull. The Germans were forced to rest and recuperate after their losses in men and material which were vastly greater than ours."

Will Convince Men.
"But I do not expect the failure of the present offensive to end the war. The Allies should not assume that now. It would be a logical thing if the German people, controlled their Government. But they do not. The German militarists will not cease with the failure of their present offensive to national beings. However, France and her Allies will go on to a victory that will convince even the German Government."

"There is no limit to the sacrifice which the French people will make of themselves, and no limit to the sacrifices the Germans will make of other people. The difference is all in favor of France, whose absolute loyalty and determination of the people. The French are fighting their own war of their own volition, for a Government all their own, entirely subject to their opinion."

All Heroes in Way.
"And the effect of this solidarity, wrought by good government, and freedom for the expansion of the soul of France, has been the passionate loyalty that has made Paris, in wartime the home of heroic sacrifice that has left no section of the community untouched. Fathers, mothers, wives and children have all been heroes in their own way. From the former Prime Minister, says a traveller in France, 'and from the charwoman round the corner, who both lost the eldest sons, I heard grief, but no complaint. The statesman did what he could thereforeforward, by speech and action, to help his country to win the war, and the woman in black went on quietly with her work. She had to go on with her work, and by the simple way she did it she also helped her country. All Paris took its share simply.'"

No Grumbling.
"After months and months of war not a murmur, not a grumble. The great do not want or need praise of what they did: women nursing, patriots became hospitals, refugees cured for, Belgian and Serbian children housed and mothered. Humble folk did more. They stood fast and did not wince; going daily to market, where all prices rose steadily, buying coal, food, all necessities in ever smaller quantities and daily dearer, living still bravely and silently their small lives through every hardship, these really were the soul of war Paris. A great General once said: 'Delenda est Carthago,' Carthage must be destroyed. Paris, beautiful Paris, must not be destroyed, and Paris is confident."

"Fighting, suffering and sacrificing has ceased to be a novelty; it has become the routine, indispensable duty. The French never neglect a necessary routine. There is no question of the outcome."

HIS DELUSION.

More Insurance Needed

THE people of Canada purchased $50,000,000 more life insurance during 1917 than they did in 1916. This is in keeping with a similar marked increase during the previous year.

This increase is significant. It shows that the people realize

- (1) the lessons of the war that emphasize the uncertainties of the future;
- (2) the wisdom of investing increased earnings for future protection;
- (3) those already insured realize the need for more and more protection as the cost of living mounts upward, thus decreasing the amount of protection that dependents can enjoy from any given sum of money.

These lessons of the times point to the wisdom of providing adequate life insurance protection.

A Mutual continuous monthly income policy, under the endowment plan, would assure you of an income at the expiry of an endowment period of, say, 20 years. At least 240 monthly payments are guaranteed to yourself, or your beneficiary. If you survive the period the income continues for life.

These policies are also issued on the Life and Limited Life Plans. Write for full particulars.

MUST FIRST SECURE SAANICH'S SANCTION

Latest Move in Cemetery Location Situation Taken by District Municipality

The latest turn in the cemetery situation is the passage, at a special meeting of the Saanich Council last evening of a by-law to prevent the location of any burial ground or cemetery within the municipal limits without the authority of the Municipal Council. One of the reasons in the formal protest lodged by the district municipality, following Tuesday's committee meeting, is that the city has gone ahead with the Scott property option without reference to the district council.

This document will be before the City Council at its meeting on Tuesday evening. As the position stands now, notice is out for a vote of the electors on Saturday next on the by-law to raise $37,950 for the purchase, authority for which has come from the Federal Department of Finance.

The Saanich Council unanimously took the course of disapproval yesterday. The Council, however, expects that the city authorities will take the matter up with them before a final reading is given to the by-law.

Meanwhile A. E. Ormond, who offered land on the Gordon Head Road for a cemetery at $250 per acre, has reduced the price to $200 per acre, as against $500 for the Scott property. This is the land which Alderman Sargent has urged the aldermen to inspect prior to a purchase being completed.

A considerable feeling with regard to this site is being manifested in the Mount Tolmie section. Meanwhile the Council maintains that it has a right to secure a site as near the city as possible for the convenience of its citizens.

the former. In supporting Major Langley, Government forces believed, and meant it that his association with the governing authority, coupled with a sympathetic knowledge born of close companionship with the warriors on the fields of France, would enable more effective service on behalf of the returned man to be rendered in the Legislature.

On the other hand the service organizations laid down a hard and fast rule that two essential factors would be required to dominate the selection of a candidate to represent them. The one requirement was actual service in the front line trenches and the other was an absolute freedom from party affiliation. With regard to the latter, their fundamental plea the returned men have scored a notable victory in sending an ex-private soldier as a people's representative as well as a soldier's representative to a seat in the local Legislature.

Meetings as Barometer. Although brief and at times just a little breezy the campaign was remarkable for its good humor, and with the exception of the great meeting in support of the member-elect on Thursday night last, there was not an overwhelming general interest manifested in the election and attendance at the meetings of the four candidates was in this case the correct barometer for the result. As to whether forecasts in future elections may be determined on the same basis remains to be seen. The final rallies on Thursday were attended by approximately two thousand, four hundred and sixty respectively at the Royal Victoria, the Princess and the Columbia, while so far as known Mr. McDonald held one meeting during the contest and that under the blue canopy.

Sporting Instinct.

An impromptu gathering on Broad Street immediately following the announcement of the results gave an opportunity to both victor and vanquished to bow to an enthusiastic crowd. With due pride in the outcome Beaumont Boggs, chairman of the Service Men's Campaign organization, called upon Mr. Perry and Major Langley, both of whom took their defeat with excellent grace, the congratulations of both by a hearty hand shake with the member-elect being the signal for a spontaneous outburst from the waiting multitude. When Giolma himself appeared all throats did their best to supplement the verdict already recorded, and though his remarks were brief to a degree, the ex-private and M.P.P.-elect appeared not in the least "puffed up" by the honor of public service which descended upon him yesterday as the sequel to service of a more vigorous nature rendered to the Empire on the hell-ploughed terrain of France and Flanders.

Go Easy, Says Member.

From Broad Street the member-elect was shouldered to the rooms of the Great War Veterans' Association on Fort Street. And with a journalistic imagination Giolma's gaze fell on the figurative crystal and warned his fellow comrades against the futility of "crying for the moon." It would be his bounden duty in the course of time to see that every one of the planks in his platform found a way into the laws of the land; but the process would of necessity be somewhat slow. Naturally gratified in the result Mr. Giolma saw a moral. It was only a forerunner of many such instances where the returned men would appeal not in vain to the electorate. He was appreciative of the unification of returned men's forces and the gradual drawing together of the various organizations resulting in the clear cut programme which had commended itself to the people, won their support to the benefit of the returned man, and, in his opinion, of the general community.

The Rev. Comyn Ching.

"You will be watched and with the great body of public opinion behind you, you will be able to force legislation which will make the whole country sit up and take notice," said the Rev. Comyn Ching. He said he could almost have wished that the honor had been his did he not know that Comrade Giolma would shoulder his duties manfully and make the most of the great opportunity which spread out before him.

WARTIME CLOTHES.

All women engaged in official war work have the problem of what to wear solved for them by their Government, as a rule. There are other women who are just as truly engaged in war work but its performance does not remove them from the generality of women. The question of what to wear is, however, a most important one. The great consideration is to secure suitable material, eliminate as much as possible in the way of laundry work that comes under the head of "luxuries" and never for one instant look dowdy or what some women abhor almost as much—just "serviceable."

Femininity has set its brains to work and there is a general agreement that the one-piece frock is most satisfactory. If one must have blouses the recommendation is for dark ones with dainty guimpes which can be renewed easily and frequently, suffer comparatively little from their visit to the laundry and always look dainty and fresh. Both time and money are saved by using guimpes. Linen or lawn of good quality is the preferred material. Underwear has likewise been chosen with the same ideas in view. Frills are practically banished. All of these points recommend themselves because they emphasize most attractively the two things dear to the womanly woman—dainty belongings for every day and immaculate freshness.

A London tailor is offering a wartime one-piece dress which has many attractive features. The design is patented and all royalties go to the British Red Cross. The frock is a "slipover" and by means of a clever combination of collar, stole and belt the fullness is adjusted about the waist and one frock may be made to appear different each time it is worn, provided the "harness," as it is called, is made up in various colors or materials.

The same model can be made up for morning, afternoon and evening wear. Canadian women might design and patent a dress, the proceeds to go to the Red Cross.

DOMINION

For the last time to-night the Dominion will have for its attraction Charlie Chaplin in "A Dog's Life," which has been repeated by request of a large number of people who were unable to see it here on its last visit owing to the theatre being crowded at all performances; also Louise Glaum in "Sweetheart of the Doomed." This picture is a dramatic offering and is a production that stands high indeed. Direction, photography, action, continuity of story and artistic effects are as good as anyone could desire. The whole programme is well balanced and makes a fine evening's entertainment.

ROYAL VICTORIA

The thousands of admirers of delightful Marguerite Clark who have seen her "Bab" pictures will be interested in the forthcoming presentation at the Royal Victoria Theatre for the last time to-night of her latest photoplay "Rich Man, Poor Man," a picture of Maximilian Foster's successful novel by George Broadhurst.

The story of this admirable picture deals with the fortunes of Betty Wynne, a charming girl, who after many years spent in a boarding house enters the home of John K. Beeston, a cold-hearted, selfish financier, presumably as his grandchild. Although a rich man, Beeston is a poor man in everything else, for he loves no one and everyone despises him for his eccentricities and erratic temperament. Betty brings love and sunshine into his life and he refuses to permit her to leave him even after he discovers that she has been foisted upon himself through the forgery of a man whose sole desire was to make Betty happy. Betty is the central figure in numerous thrilling scenes, and finally finds hap-

A BEDTIME STORY

UNCLE WIGGILY AND KATY DID

Copyright, 1918, by McClure Newspaper Syndicate.
(By Howard R. Galt.)

Once upon a time, when Uncle Wiggily Longears, the bunny rabbit gentleman, was walking through the woods, he came to a pile of brush, and on top of it was a funny green bug with long hind legs and very big, light green wings.

"Oh, dear!" sighed the bug.
"What's the matter?" asked Uncle Wiggily. "You seem to be in trouble."
"I am," answered the green bug. "I have broken one of my long jumping legs, and now I can't hop. I can only crawl."

"That's too bad," spoke the bunny uncle. "Perhaps I can help you. I once watched Dr. Possum mend the broken leg of Billie Bushytail, the squirrel, and I think I can do the same for you." Dr. Possum took some splints, or pieces of wood, and bound them around the broken leg until it got well.

"I wish some one would do that for me," said the green bug.
"I will," promised Uncle Wiggily.
From the brush heap he took some slender sticks, using very little ones as the green bug's leg was very small. Then, with a piece of ribbon grass, which the woodland animal folk use as we use Red Cross bandages, the bunny uncle bound up the green bug's broken leg.

"Oh, that feels fine," said the insect. "When my leg gets well I'll do you a favor, Uncle Wiggily, because you did me one."
"Oh, pray don't mention it," said the bunny, with a low and polite bow of his tall silk hat. "I don't do favors because I want one in return. I do them because I like to."

"Thank you," said the green bug. Then she went to sleep on the pile of brush, while Uncle Wiggily went on and on through the woods, looking for an adventure.

"Because," said the bunny to himself, "just fixing a green bug's leg isn't really much of anything at all."
But, if you please, wait and see what happens.

That same afternoon, when Uncle Wiggily was on his way back to his hollow stump bungalow, and he was thinking of taking Nurse Jane Pussey Wuzzy to the moving pictures that evening, all of a sudden, as the bunny passed a big stone—

No, just a moment, if you please. Don't get me wrong. The green bug did not step out and hand the rabbit gentleman a plate of pistachio ice cream. Instead, the bad old skilfully-scaly alligator, with bumps all over his tail, slipped himself out, and, grabbing the bunny rabbit gentleman, said: "I have you!"

"Well, yes, I guess you have," sadly spoke Uncle Wiggily. "But what are you going to do with me?"
"I am going to give one flip of my big tail," said the alligator, "and I am going to send you flying away over the tops of the trees, as the boys knock their baseballs—that's what I'm going to do!"

"Are you strong enough?" asked Uncle Wiggily, hoping something would happen before he was knocked over the trees. "You are not strong enough to do that!" said the alligator. "Look! I knocked that big tree over with one sweep of my strong tail!" and he pointed one claw at a fallen tree.

Willard Litch and G. A. Reynolds during August.

About two hundred men of Willows Camp spent a very pleasant two hours last evening in the Y. M. C. A. hut. An impromptu musical entertainment, furnished largely by the men themselves, assisted by two young ladies, filled the first hour. Through the kindness of Mrs. Beal, of St. Women's Auxiliary, and the young ladies under her chaperonage, refreshments were provided and coffee and cake much enjoyed by the boys. Secretary Estabrook formally voiced the appreciation of the men, which was strongly supported in a hearty cheer for the ladies.

A military wedding of much interest to Victoria and Ladysmith friends of the contracting parties took place in Kerrisdale Church, Vancouver, on Wednesday evening, when Miss Agnes ("Nan") Mason Mitchell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Mitchell, of 2036

Forty-second Avenue West, Vancouver, was united in marriage to George Mossman, of Ladysmith, son of W. Mossman, of Glasgow, Scotland, Rev. N. H. Wilson officiating. The groom is a former corporal of the 16th Battalion, and wore the picturesque Highland costume of his regiment. The bride, who was given away by her father, was beautifully gowned in white messaline, with veil and orange blossoms, and carried a shower bouquet of white roses. The bridesmaid, Miss Jean Mitchell, sister of the bride, wore pink messaline, with picture hat, and carried pink carnations. The groom was attended by J. Lowrie, of Ladysmith. The church was tastefully decorated in pink and white, while a big Union Jack was draped above the altar. Miss Black played the wedding march, and Mrs. McCrae sang "Because" during the signing of the registrar. The bride's present to the groom was a gold watch, the groom's present to the bride a gold pendant, to the bridesmaid a pearl pendant, and to the best man a watch fob. Mr. and Mrs. Mossman left for Victoria on a short honeymoon, and on their return will make their home in Ladysmith. The bride's traveling costume was of pale gray with hat to match. The presents were numerous and handsome.

Mrs. J. Armstrong, of Vancouver, and her sister, Mrs. George Perry, of Deloraine, Manitoba, are spending the week in Victoria, the guests of Mrs. E. Semith, of Johnson Street.

They gave up all thought of working for themselves, and no matter what form of war work presents itself they are ready. RED CROSS REVUE AT PRINCESS THEATRE

Artistes Include Mrs. Robert Baird, Returned From Eastern Studio

A programme of unusual excellence will be given at the Princess Theatre on July 4, 5, 6, in the interest of the Red Cross Society, by R. N. Hincks and his capable company of players. The first half will consist of songs and orchestral selections by well-known local artists, including Mrs. Gertrude Huntley Green and Edmund Pethg. Mrs. Robert Baird is also taking part, having recently returned from Toronto after a visit extending over six months, where she has been studying with the eminent vocal teacher, Signor Morando, late of Covent Garden. She possesses a contralto voice of unusual range and sweetness, and this being the first occasion on which Mrs. Baird will sing since her return from the east, her initial appearance is being looked forward to with much interest.

The second half of the programme will be of a varied nature, including a Russian Dance by Miss Barbara Fay, late of the Alhambra Theatre Ballet, assisted by Miss Roberta Balcorn and Miss Doris Fleming; some clever tumbling and acrobatic acts by Oliver and Carroll, whose performances on previous occasions have occasioned much applause, and a solo dance by Miss Fay. The programme concludes with an original musical sketch entitled, "The Olden Days of Chivalry," the leading parts being taken by the following, whose names alone are sufficient evidence of merit: Sir Malahat of the Island Highway, H. J. Davis; Sir Cannery Cohoe of the Silver Sockeye, R. N. Hincks; Lady Pandora de Gonzales, Major Taylor; Bapoe of the White Swan, Miss D. Stuart Robertson and Mountjoy, Miss A. Stuart Robertson.

As the entire net proceeds go to swell the funds of the Canadian Red Cross, it is hoped by the management that they will be capacity houses at each performance, and former popular prices will prevail.

TWILIGHT RECITAL

Interesting Event by Pupils of Academy of Music.

The studio of the British Columbia Academy of Music, Port Street, was well filled with interested listeners on Tuesday evening, June 25, when a very fine programme was given by the advanced pupils of R. Thomas Steele, the principal.

From first to last, the numbers appeared to be chosen to demonstrate the versatility of the singers, all of whom reflected the greatest credit on their teacher. A very satisfactory feature was the singing from memory in almost every case. Memorization is an indispensable adjunct to the concert singer, and without it there can be no real success.

- The programme was as follows:
- (a) "Wind in the Trees"..... Goring Thomas
 - (b) "From the Land of the Sky Blue Water"..... Cadman

WAR-TIME FROCK TO AID RED CROSS FUNDS

London Tailor Patents Design for "Slipover" Convertible Gown

Women engaged in official work have the problem of what to wear solved for them by their Government as a rule. There are other women who are just as truly engaged in war work, but its performance does not remove them from the generosity of women. The question of what to wear is, however, a most important one. The great consideration is to secure suitable material, eliminate as much as possible in the way of laundry work that comes under the head of "luxuries" and never for one instant look dowdy or what some women abhor almost as much as "unbecomable."

Femininity has set its brains to work and there is a general agreement that the one-piece frock is most satisfactory. If one must have blouses the recommendation is for dark ones with dainty guimpes which can be renewed easily and frequently, suffer comparatively little from their visit to the laundry and always look dainty and fresh. Both time and money are saved by using guimpes. Linen or lawn of good quality is the preferred material. Underwear has likewise been chosen with the same idea in view. Frills are practically banished. All of these points recommend themselves because they emphasize most attractively the two things dear to the womanly woman—daintiness and economy.

A London tailor is offering a war-time one-piece dress which has many attractive features. The design is patented and all royalties go to the British Red Cross. The frock is a

ROSE DAY IN AID OF DUNCAN HOSPITAL

Duncan, June 29.—Alexandra Rose Day in aid of the Duncan Hospital will be held on Saturday, July 13, by the members of the Scattered Circle of King's Daughters. The roses for this occasion are bought from crippled homes in London, in which Queen Alexandra is interested. The price paid barely covers the cost of manufacture, but throughout the Empire Alexandra Rose Day is held and two and a half per cent. of the collections goes to the upkeep of these homes. The ninety-seven and a half per cent. going to local charities. The collection will be made under the auspices of the Daughters of the Empire and the local King's Daughters as in former years, working through the Victoria Chapter. Enough roses are left over from last year to fill this year's needs.

The standing of the Duncan Hospital, owing to the most careful financial handling, has never before been so satisfactory as now. The property, to the value of about $20,000, is free of debt, excepting for a mortgage of $2,000, which the King's Daughters are making a special effort to pay off this year. Much more can be done in the way of improvements and better equipment if the property is free of debt and there is no interest to pay. A generous support on tag day will help.

Will Aid With Fruit.

Mrs. Fry and Miss B. Morley left Victoria to-day for Summerland, where they will undertake, as they did last year, to help with the fruit picking and packing. Their first work will be with the cherries, to be followed later with work on the apples. Both of these ladies have become thoroughly qualified fruit packers, having passed the various tests last year.

MUSIC IN THE HOME

MUSIC A VITAL FORCE

"Theoretically, music is a gratuity, a luxury; practically, it has proven itself to be a necessity. The simple truth is that one of the vital forces of a nation is its music, and that in the accomplishment of a huge task wherein all its energizing processes are required, the value of music should be carefully regarded."

—Colonel E. M. Markham,
303rd Engineers, National Army.

Colonel Markham speaks from experience and with authority. During his many years in the army, he has served in China, the Philippines, Cuba, Mexico, and no doubt by now he is serving in France. He says a man away from home requires the refining influence of good music and that it makes him a better man and a more efficient soldier.

If music is so indispensable to our soldiers, whose entire time seems to be actively employed, how much greater is the need for those who must remain behind to hope and pray and wait.

Catholic Cathedral Lends Itself to Mellowing of Voice and Instrument; Coming Grand Concert.

Music lovers anticipate with eagerness any programme to be given in St. Andrew's Cathedral, Blanshard Street. The reason is not difficult to understand. A building with splendid acoustics, the Cathedral lends itself to the mellowing of voice and instrument and the result in all instances is that beautiful blending of tone and "noble rolling cadence," which characterizes the music of the cathedrals and abbeys of the old world.

The organ in the cathedral is by Casavant, the well-known firm of St. Hyacinthe, Quebec, and although small, having but two manuals and twenty-one speaking stops, its tone is rich and full, and apparently adequate to the requirements of the building. Benedict Bantly, Director of the Bantly School of Music, has been the organist for a number of years, while the conductor, F. J. Sehl, who has occupied that position for over eight years, is an active musician and also the conductor of the Arion Club of this city.

Simple Character.

The music of the cathedral is somewhat simple in character in conformity with a special edict—"Modus Proprio," issued from Rome, which precludes the use of the more florid arrangements for the Church Service. This, of course, means that the compositions used are more noble in character and no opportunity is afforded for the text to be other than clearly pronounced. The works of Toner and Guerber are used to quite an extent, these composers having written an extensive library of choral music.

During the past year or two, the "Stabat Mater" has been sung three times, the solo artists having been different on each occasion. Marz's Masses Solenne were sung last summer, the programme of that evening comprising, besides the Masses, several solos and organ numbers. These concerts were given, by the kind permission of Bishop MacDonald, for Red Cross purposes, and in all cases the Cathedral was taxed to capacity, crowds thronging the edifice long before the hour set for beginning.

Grand Concert.

Arrangements are being made for a Grand Concert to be held in St. Andrew's Cathedral about the middle of July, and although a complete programme is not as yet available, Mr. Sehl announces that W. Anthony Williams will sing several solos. The proceeds of the concert will be devoted to the work of the Red Cross Society.

ROYAL ACADEMY AND COLLEGE OF MUSIC REPRESENTATIVE HERE

Work of the Institution Outlined for the Benefit of Students

During the present week, the Examinations held under the auspices of the Associated Board of the Royal Academy and Royal College of Music, London, England, have been held in this city, and continue until Tuesday next. The Examiner is George Dyson, Mus. Doc. Oxon. F. R. C. O., A. R. C. M. Dr. Dyson at one time held the R. C. M. Scholarship, and later won the Mendelssohn Scholarship, which has been held by Sir Arthur Sullivan, and other famous men.

The Examiners who from time to time visit the Dominion in connection with this work, have all been noted men in the world of music. Dr. C. H. Lloyd, who was here two years ago, is at present the Organist to His Majesty at the Chapel Royal, Savoy, London, and previous to this appointment was Organist and Precentor at old Eton College. At Gloucester Cathedral, the scene of annual festivals known throughout the Empire, Dr. Lloyd was organist for a number of years, being succeeded there by Dr. Brewer, who still holds that position. Others have been A. H. Lindo, well-known in London as musician, author, and lecturer; Dr. Percy Alderson, C. Lee Williams, Mus. Bac. Oxon, and Arthur Hinton, Esq. An interesting fact in connection with Mr. Lindo is that for several years he was one of over thirty Professors at Balam Conservatoire of Music, of which School Madame Kate Webb, of this city, was Principal. Mr. Hinton is well-known socially throughout the west, and in addition to his own musical ability, is possessed of a wife whose fame is world-wide, the celebrated English Concert Pianist, Katherine Goodson.

Reward of Merit.

To meet the requirements of the Board, and such men as that Board sends to represent it, much work on the part of the student is necessary, but the possession of a diploma from the Board is always the reward of merit.

The Royal Academy of Music was formed in the year 1822, in London. Its object was to "promote the cultivation of the Science of Music, and to afford facilities for the instruction of persons desirous of acquiring a knowledge thereof."

The second institution, the Royal College of Music, was founded at the instance and through the exertions of his late Majesty, King Edward VII, its first President, and was incorporated by Royal Charter, May 23, 1882. The main objects of this College were threefold, of which the last is most important to Canada: "Lastly, generally, the encouragement and promotion of the cultivation of Music throughout our Dominions." This culminated in the establishment of "The Associated Board" in 1889, and an agreement was reached between the R. A. M. and the R. C. M. to act as one examining body for the purpose of conducting local examinations. These examinations are as follows, roughly speaking:

School Examinations.

(a) Private individuals—(Primary, Elementary, Lower and Higher.) General inspection of school music. Report on teaching generally. A class singing examination.

(b) Local centre examination (Intermediate and Advanced Grades.)

(c) Examination for the Licentiate-ship of the Associated Board (L. A. B.) held in Australasia, Canada, Ceylon, Malta, Gibraltar, and Jamaica.

(a) For teachers.

(b) For solo performers of concert standard.

Among the local teachers who are putting in students for examination are Madame Kate Webb, of the Dominion Academy of Music, St. Margaret's School, Miss Idens and Miss Long.

RECITALS

Miss McGovern's Pupils.

The recital season is with us, and one of the most interesting was that of Miss McGovern's pupils held at Fletcher's Music Rooms last Friday evening. The programme, which lasted only an hour, was much enjoyed by a goodly number of parents and friends who gathered to hear it. The appearance of little Helen Riley, aged only 6, whose tuition covered only three months, was greeted with much applause, and she played her two little selections with wonderful skill. Miss Margaret Fawcett and Miss Yule also showed much musical talent. Among the older students, Miss Sylvia Coyne played most artistically, and altogether the recital was exceedingly well rendered. WOULD PROMOTE MUSICAL EDUCATION

The music editor has received the following letter:

To the Music Editor.—The suggestion in The Times of June 15 that a musical society should be formed in this city, if carried out, would undoubtedly prove a great success. The Incorporated Society of Musicians, England, established in 1852, is entirely for professional musicians. Of course that would not be feasible in a city the size of Victoria, but some of its principles and rules might be adopted for a society to include all those interested in music. For instance, lectures on music and musical recitals are given each month from about October to May. The Incorporated Society of Musicians has proved very successful in the British Isles, and has a membership of several thousands. Its

MISSIONARY TELLS OF CHAOS IN RUSSIA

Descriptive Lecture by Dr. Bradley Arouses Much Interest

Those who attended Dr. Bradley's lecture Thursday evening were given an intimate view of conditions in Russia to-day, and learned of the sufferings and distress that millions of unfortunate refugees are undergoing.

Dr. Bradley was requested by the British Red Cross to take over the work of caring for over twelve million refugees more than a year ago, but by the time he arrived in Russia the second revolution had taken place and many British units had been compelled to leave the country. A party financed by the Quakers in England, called the "Friends' Unit," did manage to reach Russia and are placed under Dr. Bradley's direction in the Samara Government, where industries were started to employ the refugees, and hospitals taken over and managed for the benefit of the sick, free of charge. Orphanages were opened, as amongst the refugees were many children who had become separated from their parents and had no chance of finding them again.

No Funds.

Owing to the chaotic condition of the country it was very difficult to obtain funds to carry on the work, all the banks being closed, and bank and money orders could not be cashed. Traveling by rail is attended with equal difficulty, as the system is completely disorganized. Under the Tsarist regime people traveled free, no one had authority to collect railway fares, and trains ran, or did not run, by the goodwill of the station-master. Every community is a law unto itself, there being no stable and recognized Government. The peasantry have looted and destroyed all the large estates and divided up the land, stock and valuable amongst themselves, but now demands are made by the idle and lazy peasants upon the thrifty and careful to keep him provided out of his superabundance, so that all may be equally provided for, which of course leads to constant turmoil and fighting, and frequently to murder.

Czech-Slavs.

There are now in Russia, 200,000 Czech-Slavs (pronounced "chek") deserted from Austria to Russia in the earlier part of the war, said the speaker. Coming from Bohemia, they are friendly to their fellow Slavs in Russia, and hate the German with deadly hatred. Constant reference is being made in the daily papers to these Czechs, who have lately taken possession of parts of Siberia, but though they disagree with the Bolsheviks they will not fight them because they are Russians. Germans they can and will fight. Dr. Bradley had as his dispenser in one of the hospitals one of these Austrian Czechs. He spoke six European languages fluently and was an educated man and invaluable to Dr. Bradley as an interpreter. When Dr. Bradley came out across Siberia with his party of nurses and helpers, a journey of 5,000 miles, that occupied four weeks instead of the usual six days through rail journey, his dispenser accompanied him to Vladivostok, where he left him and is now acting as interpreter to the French consul there. There is plenty of food in Siberia, but in Samara the people are starving, as last year's harvest was a complete failure, and transportation of wheat from Siberia is at a standstill.

The headquarters of Dr. Bradley's Mission was at Buzuluk, and he had a staff of forty English workers, doctors, nurses and instructors to assist him. The refugees are packed into the peasants' houses, where the over-crowding results in much sickness, especially pneumonia and typhoid, the only wonder being that no severe epidemics have occurred.

Weekly Bath.

The Russian peasant is cleanly in his habits, and Dr. Bradley's description of the weekly bath indulged in by whole families at once caused his hearers much amusement. That the Allies will keep a sympathetic mind for these poor mis-governed and ignorant people who have fought bravely and have gained nothing from the war, is the sincere hope of Dr. Bradley and those who understand conditions in Russia.

Bishop Schofield, who was in the chair, referred in the closing speech to Dr. Bradley's years of work among the lepers in China, and reminded the meeting that there is a small leper colony in this diocese which he had visited three weeks ago and had talked with the patients there, and he asked for the prayers of his hearers for these unfortunate sufferers.

PREMIER TO SPEAK AT FIRST CHURCH

Special Services at First Presbyterian Church; Addresses by Public Men

In accordance with the Royal Proclamation, special services of prayer and intercession will be held at the First Presbyterian Church to-morrow. The Rev. J. Gibson Inkster will have charge of both services, and in the morning he will be assisted by Alderman W. Walker and John Graham, secretary of the Y. M. C. A.

Hon. John Oliver, Premier of British Columbia, and J. R. Cowell, clerk of the Alberta Legislature and a former member of the Manx Legislative Assembly, Isle of Man, will be the special speakers in the evening. Special devotional and intercessory music of a national character will be rendered by the choir at both services.

REFORMED EPISCOPAL CHURCH.

Rev. Capt. Martin, recently appointed a chaplain under Major C. C. Owen on Vancouver Island, will be the preacher at the morning service at the Reformed Episcopal Church to-morrow. Special services of prayer and intercession in accordance with the Royal Proclamation are to be held both morning and evening.

EVANGELISM MUST PRECEDERE REFORM

Rev. J. G. Inkster Makes Plea for Spread of Gospel Through Converts

"The crisis of evangelism consists in the fact that while a large part of the church advocate it in theory they oppose it in practice. There are many professing disciples of Christ to-day who say they believe in evangelism but they demand sane and safe men and moderate methods, while there are other so-called Christian leaders who openly denounce and oppose many of the best known evangelists of the day."

These were some of the bold statements which Rev. J. G. Inkster made at First Presbyterian Church last Sunday night in his second sermon on "The Crisis of the Church."

Preach the Gospel.

"Christ gave a single commission to His followers: 'Go ye into all the world and preach the gospel.' The followers of Christ to-day have multiplied many times that single universal commission. They have added the commission of social service, the commission of moral reform, the commission of political purity, and such like. The result is confusion, stagnation and death. The sad fact is souls are perishing while the doctors are differing as to diagnosis. It is not the 'submerged tenth' of doctors of divinity quarrelling as to whether sin is a reaching out after God or a working out of righteousness, as to whether 'this world is merely sunk' or 'partially' submerged, while at the same time sin-sick souls are dying and being lost."

"The Bible tells us plainly 'sin is a transgression of the law,' and the soul that sinneth it shall die," continued the preacher. "The Bible tells us the world is lost and that Jesus came to save it, and the great work of the church is to preach salvation through the substitutionary sacrifice of Jesus Christ—to save souls—evangelize the world."

Place for Professional.

"In this work there is a place for the professional evangelist. Paul tells us that. But he also tells us every converted sinner should be an evangelist. The great need of the church to-day is lay evangelists—men who will meet together—consecrated men—and pray that God will pour out His blessing on this parched land of ours. When the evangel is so proclaimed and so received, then will follow the gospel of social, moral and political reform, which we need to-day. The logical and practical results—never causes—of the true evangel."

IMPERIAL WAR MUSEUM.

Plans are already under way for the great Imperial War Museum which, in many ways both in respect to its British and the Victoria and Albert Museums. In other important respects the new museum will differ from even the Victoria and Albert. For one thing it will not be a mere repository for various specimens of the machinery of war. The whole idea will be to demonstrate, for all time, the superb manner in which England rose to the stupendous demands of this unexpected war which is the greatest of all history.

Nothing could be finer than the tribute which the Imperial Government pays to its women by creating a Woman's War Sub-Committee as part of the planning body of this great museum. In the years to come British women will be free citizens of that Empire they have helped so heroically to save and test they fought the tremendous odds against which their ill-equipped forces, this great museum will serve as a reminder.

In one way and another every branch of woman's work in the war will be shown. Records and charts will record the growth of women's work in all lines. Just how this work was carried on will be shown by photographs and, in some cases, by models showing the women at their tasks. Specimens of their work will also be included in the exhibits. With this, in each case, will go a full account of the work as shown by official documents, press cuttings, public speeches and lectures. Every kind of badge or uniform worn by women war workers will be on exhibition and the committee are very anxious to secure for all bases including those given by obscure societies and societies whose identity was later merged into that of other bodies. Voluntary labor by women is to be honored in every possible way.

Belgian relief work, so very dependent upon voluntary workers at first, must not be overlooked and other relief organizations which have ceased to exist at the present time are too valuable a factor in this world struggle to be overlooked and are to have a place in the museum. Women who have performed exceptional service for the Allies and have been decorated by them are to have a niche all to themselves. Even those of use who have become accustomed to women in unheard-of occupations will feel a thrill of pride on seeing the complete record in this museum of women in shipyards, in skilled and unskilled labor, in civil and government positions, places of trust and danger. Welfare work carried on in all these places will be an interesting comment on the difference in the attitude of the Hun and the Allies towards their fellows. The adjustment of the machine to the worker and the various safeguards evolved for each profession will be a striking comment on the attitude of capital and labor, each towards the other.

One of the most fascinating and gripping exhibits will be that relating to hospitals and nursing, huts, canteens and communal kitchens.

The committee, having this great work in charge consists in part of the Hon. Lady Norman, C. B. E., chairman; Miss Conway, hon. secretary; Lady Askwith, C. B. E., Miss Durham, C. B. E., (Chief Woman Inspector, Employment Department, Ministry of Labor), Mrs. Carey Evans (nee Lloyd George), the Hon. Lady Hald, Lady Lond and Miss Monkhouse (Chief Woman Dilution officer, Ministry of Munitions).

PRICELESS PAINTING ON PUBLIC VIEW HERE

"The Communion of St. Claire" by Disciple of Titian School

"Old masters" are comparatively rare on this western coast, although familiar to the people of the east and throughout Europe through the medium of art collections, and for that reason a painting which is on exhibition in the ladies' writing room at the Empress Hotel should be the Mecca of all lovers of art.

The picture, which is roughly speaking, about five by seven feet, represents "The Communion of St. Claire." While containing all the characteristics of the Venetian school it lacks something of the meticulous fineness of detail which marked Titian's works and is probably the work of a disciple of the great master. Wonderfully harmonious in coloring, each of the four figures blends into a sombre background, while the lighting effect upon the flesh of the hands and faces is a miracle of softness.

Estimated to be about three hundred years old, the painting for a long time hung in the Bishop's Palace, and was later sent to the Convent of the Poor Clare at the Willows, where it has been hanging in the private chapel of the order. Recently the extensive collection in the possession of Archbishop Casey, of Vancouver, has been receiving treatment at the hands of R. Hales-Sanders, an eastern artist, and the painting was placed with him for restoration. The work has just been completed and represents a triumph in this difficult art, the mellow coloring having been brought out under the expert treatment, and the painting now is probably in appearance exactly as it came from the hands of the master. The picture will remain at the Empress Hotel until this evening, and tomorrow may be viewed by the public at St. Andrew's Cathedral.

WINNIPEG RECTOR FOR VANCOUVER

Canon McElheran, of St. Matthews Church, one of the most able preachers in Winnipeg, has received a call from Christ Church, Vancouver, which it is understood he will probably accept.

A call to Canon McElheran was extended after the recent appointment of the present rector, Major the Rev. C. C. Owen as senior military chaplain of British Columbia. Major Owen now on Vancouver Island and will take up his new duties as soon as his successor is named.

BRITISH WOMEN IN THE WAR

According to official announcement there are, at the present time, 4,538,000 women and girls employed in classified trades that are under the jurisdiction of the British Board of Trade. These figures are exclusive of women employed in small trades and on the land. Domestic service, for example, is excluded. All hospital helpers, Red Cross and other nurses are not counted. Taking all classes of British women war workers, the total is considerably over 5,000,000.

Less than 200,000 women were employed in Great Britain before the war began and these were mostly in the textile, clothing and foodstuffs industries. The Government offices exclusive of civil service and local government. The latter two employed 145,000. Munition workers numbered over 800,000; worked in chemical and engineering plants, 208,000; land workers, 100,000 (with an additional 20,000 called for this summer) and thousands as mechanics, motor drivers, ambulance drivers, street car and omnibus operators, cab drivers, every sort of railway work, letter carriers, bank clerks and office workers of every kind. Recruiting goes on steadily in all these lines and the response has been to the tune of 15,000 a week.

The spirit of these women is wonderful. Difficult work and dangerous work is not shunned, but taken up cheerfully. Extra hours are taken as a matter of course. "We're not tired!" is their motto and when holidays are mentioned the reply is: "What will our girls who never tire of their own shoes nor stuck to anything continuously for thirty minutes, work contentedly through a long day for weeks and months side by side with their former maids or women from the fields."

Skilled workmen have been glad to teach these brave and plucky women the secrets of trade efficiency. Even valuing for factories, actually laying the bricks and doing the carpentering is being done every day in order to release men for the front.

"Farmerettes" is a name which carries a pleasant suggestion of picturesque employments, but too often it stands for the most menial tasks, such as cleaning pigsties or such nerve-racking work as tending horses when one is actually afraid of the creatures. "Make the most of yourself and be worthy of the trust that has been placed in you," was the British Government's advice to applicants for service in the

"VICTORIA HAS SHOWN WAY" SAY VETERANS

Ex-Private Frank Giolma, M. P. P., Receives Congratulations of Organization

Congratulations from well-wishers from all over the Province, in addition to those from the citizens of Victoria, have been falling in a never-ending shower upon ex-Private Frank Giolma, M. P. P., since the news of his overwhelming victory at the polls has spread abroad.

Among the host of telegrams received at his home this morning were two which were particularly prized by the soldier member-elect as they represented the sincere good wishes of the men with whom he faced death on the fields of Flanders. The first, sent by Comrade W. Drinnan, president of the Vancouver branch of the Great War Veterans' Association, reads: "Vancouver branch sends heartiest congratulations. Victoria has shown the way." Another, sent by W. J. Bartlett, provincial secretary of the "Heartiest congratulations on your splendid victory."

KILLED IN FRANCE

Capt. Arthur, M. C. Whose Brother Lives Here, Was Hit by Shell.

H. W. Arthur, who is in the employ of the Imperial Munitions Board in Victoria, has lost his only brother in the war, Capt. Hugh Arthur, M.C., who went to England with the 88th Fusiliers, having joined that unit the day war was declared, was killed in France by a shell explosion. After arriving in England he secured a commission in the 11th Northumberland Fusiliers, with which unit he served in France. In the first Battle of the Somme, Capt. Arthur was awarded the Military Cross. He was suffering badly from shell shock and was invalided home, but as soon as he was sufficiently recovered to do anything at all he undertook training work at Newcastle-on-Tyne, returning to the firing line later on. He leaves a widow and months' old child in England.

Suggests Bird Sanctuary. Secretary F. Kermode, of the Game Conservation Board, writes to the City Council suggesting a bird sanctuary at Elk and Beaver Lakes and offering ducks, a hybrid between mallards and French Coots, reared at the Government Pheasant farm at Sarnia, which he thinks would do very well in a sanctuary at the lakes, where bird life is limited at the present time.

Competition at Spencer's, Ltd. In connection with the rebuilding of the store, David Spencer, Ltd., recently offered two prizes for the best set of plans showing the most advantageous rearrangement of the various departments. The contestants were to allow for a cafeteria and offering ducks, a hybrid between mallards and French Coots, reared at the Government Pheasant farm at Sarnia, which he thinks would do very well in a sanctuary at the lakes, where bird life is limited at the present time.

A Question of Access. The Civic Streets Committee yesterday decided adversely with regard to the request of David S. Spencer to have certain improvements made on Cook Street. The chairman of the Committee (Alderman Porter) and the City Engineer reported that they had visited the site and ascertained that Mr. Spencer required that the driveway running into his house should be improved so that he could use Cook Street and proceed north to Fifth. This suggestion, they stated, owing to the grade of the street would be a difficult matter, and would entail an expenditure of $100. In view of the fact that Mr. Spencer has a good access to his grounds from Strathcona Avenue, they recommended adversely to the authorization of the expenditure.

MIDSUMMER MARKET

Large Attendance To-day at Decorated Stalls; Auction and Raffle in Afternoon.

The promoters of the Victoria Midsummer Market have every reason to be proud of the display of produce at the City Market to-day. Fresh fruit proved one of the features of the display and some beautiful examples of the soft fruits from the district were on exhibition at the stalls. Plants, vegetables, etc. were notable features, and poultry and meat insofar as the season renders display of this character practicable.

These were all tastefully set off with bunting and the building, which has also been prettily decorated by Miss Pooley, was the centre of attraction from an early hour.

The principal object of the display was of course the raising of a fund of charity, in order to attract for the auction sale and raffle during the afternoon in the interests of the Red Cross Society. There was undoubtedly a much greater attendance than twelve months ago at a corresponding function.

The auction sale began in the afternoon and the articles donated by the various stallholders passed under the hammer. At four o'clock the destiny of the most attractive articles donated for the raffle from live pig to rabbit, was to be settled by a committee from the Victoria Branch of the Red Cross Society, who would determine the disposal of them by drawing of tickets.

Struck Off Strength. The undermentioned officers will be struck off the strength of the Railway Service Guard on disbandment, with effect from June 30: Captain (Temp. Major) W. T. Haynes, Captain H. E. Barnes, Captain J. D. Inkster, Lieutenant C. E. Sjoquist.

Consider Connection Unnecessary. As a sequel to the application of F. C. Pink before the Local Improvement Commission with regard to his property at the corner of Cook Street and Mackenzie Street, the Local Improvement Commissioners asked the Civic Streets Committee yesterday if it would not be wise to carry a sidewalk across the meadow from the end of Mackenzie Street easterly to Linden Avenue. It was thought this course would be very acceptable to the Mackenzie Street residents. The Committee decided adversely to the proposal pending the building of houses on the block of Mackenzie Street, which is at present unoccupied.

MYSTERY SURROUNDS FINDING OF BODY

Tent Securely Fastened From Inside Contains Remains of J. H. Davis

Mystery surrounds the death of a man whose body was found lying in a tent at Beecher Bay, East Sooke, a small rifle lying at his side, containing one discharged cartridge and the tent being securely fastened from the inside. The suggestion of foul play is discounted by the fact that the bottom portion of the tent consisted of boarding, the tent having doors and windows.

A superficial examination of the body disclosed a wound in the head which it is believed may have been self-inflicted as it would have been a difficult matter for anyone to have fastened up the tent from the outside. From papers found on the body, which apparently has been lying in the tent for some time, the name of the deceased is J. H. Davis, of 2720 Bridge Street, but no one at that address knows anything about the man. In fact all efforts of the Provincial Police to learn something about the deceased have resulted in an absolute blank.

There was a J. H. Davis, who gave the same address, working for the Foundation Company some time ago and at that company keeps records of next-of-kin in case of accidents; they state that the man employed by them as J. H. Davis gave the address of a brother, E. A. Davis, of 307 Row Bay Road, but this has only served to deepen the mystery, as there is no such number on Row Bay Road and no one in the neighborhood ever heard of an E. A. Davis.

Deceased is supposed to have been an engineer. The body is that of a man of thirty, height 5 feet 5 inches, weight 125 pounds, eyes brown, complexion dark. Provincial Constable Wolf left early this morning to investigate the matter, accompanied by an undertaker, who will bring the remains back to Victoria, and they are expected to reach here early this afternoon. After the matter has been fully investigated by the Provincial Police and the Coroner, the body will be taken to Thomson's Undertaking Parlors.

Dr. Chase Their Family Doctor

Experience Has Proven the Dependability of the Well-Known Medicines of the Great Receipt Book Author

Hyas, Sask., June 23.—Many Western homes are far from doctors and druggists. On this account it is necessary to have at hand such medicines as may be needed in case of sickness and disease.

In the great majority of these homes you will find Dr. Chase's Medicines, and frequently a copy of Dr. Chase's Receipt Book. These letters will give you some idea of the satisfactory results which are obtained by the use of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills as a means of regulating the kidneys, liver and bowels, and thereby avoiding serious disease.

Mr. Sam. Gerber, Hyas, Sask., writes: "We have used Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills in our family for five years, and find them excellent for all kinds of kidney and liver troubles. My wife and I both suffered, on and off, for about three years with pains in the back. We sent for five boxes of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, and they did us more good in two weeks than anything we ever used before. They regulated the action of the kidneys and we can truly say they cured us."

This statement is endorsed by O. Jacobson, Postmaster.

Mr. E. E. Curson, Colville, Sask., writes: "I have used your Kidney-Liver Pills for six years, and during that time have never felt better. I take about two pills every week, and they keep my blood and kidneys in working order. I think if others were to follow my example, they would get rid of that headache, and many other complaints one hears so much about."

Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, one pill a dose, 25c. a box. At all dealers, or Edmondson, Bates & Co., Limited, Toronto. Look for the portrait and signature of A. W. Chase, M. D., on the box you buy.

RED CROSS WORK

Gorge Branch.

A special meeting of the branch was held on Tuesday, June 25, Mrs. Miller in the chair.

The refreshment tent at the big Red Cross gala which is being held at the Gorge on July 1 will be under the control of this branch, and final arrangements in this connection were made at the meeting. The committee would be grateful for a few more cakes and cookies, and same can be left at the grounds on Monday morning, July 1. The regular monthly meeting will be held on Tuesday next, July 2.

Fairfield Branch.

The handsome doll presented to the branch by little Miss Taylor is now on exhibition at Fletcher's Music Store, Government Street. It will remain here until claimed by the fortunate winner. The doll is to be raffled at the Gorge on Dominion Day. Tickets can be had at the Fairfield booth. In addition to the raffish were made the ladies of the booth will sell ice cream cones.

On July 4 Mrs. F. G. Richards will give a silver tea at her residence, Craigdarroch, between the hours of 2 and 6 p. m. There will be raffled a hand-knitted sweater, the entire proceeds to be devoted to the Red Cross fund. It is hoped there will be a large attendance.

All Records for Doings Many and Various to Be Smashed Dominion Day

Gorge Carnival, Oak Bay Sports, Inter-City Cricket Game, and Regatta Will Afford Entertainment for the Populace and Money for the Red Cross

No sooner did Kahanamoku depart than Dominion Day signified its intention of arriving; and of arriving accompanied with a procession of events that should shake this smokeless city to the roots. The number and variety of the stunts to be pulled off for patriotic purposes is appalling, to contemplate them is enough to make an ordinary citizen gasp, and to write about them in detail would require as much paper as the Kaiser's telegrams of congratulation to Hindenburg.

From the standpoint of amusement and patriotic money-making, Monday, July 1, will be the most outstanding date in the athletic year which bids fair to be crammed full of extravagant doings.

There are several good valid reasons for this. The reasons, which, by the way, are all well worth attending, are: The huge carnival and entertainment extravaganza at the Gorge; the big school athletic sport, fair and mounted gymnastics at Oak Bay; the inter-city cricket game with Vancouver at the Jubilee Hospital; the flannel dance for the visiting welders at the Alexandra Club in the evening; and the regatta at Cowichan Bay.

Which, when considered collectively and in detail, should make Capt. Vancouver turn in his grave and give the good people of the Terminal City a severe jolt.

Rather Confusing. All these stunts coming together just naturally put the average fan into a haze of pleasurable confusion. To which place should he go? That is the question. It doesn't matter since they are all for the Red Cross, but the only thing to absolutely avoid, as one would a gas shell or the Crown Prince, is not going at all.

This is indeed a terrifying possibility to contemplate. Not that it would have any appreciable effect upon the different affairs, but the person who fails to spend his time and some of his money to the utmost in Monday will deserve to be pitted, not excreted. He will lie awake at night torn with remorse and never forgive himself. In order that this tragedy may be prevented a brief description of each big event is given below. It is purely a matter of taste as to which event at the Victoria, at the Gorge, and as stated it doesn't matter a great deal, either.

AT THE GORGE. The Gorge, always a popular place on holidays, will be utilized as never before on Dominion Day. For it is there that the big carnival, which has been heralded for weeks' past and looked forward to with anticipation by thousands, will be staged. Most people are already familiar with the character of the carnival which can be only described in one word—colossal.

Everything has been fixed up so that the Red Cross will receive every cent spent at the Gorge. The concessions and so forth will be placed in the grounds behind the V. I. A. Club House, which are perhaps the most pleasant in the vicinity. The booths, which are under the able and sage direction of Arthur Manson, promise to present attractions never seen or heard in this city before, and the ideas to be incorporated have been worked out by weeks of brain racking by the committee in charge. There will also be a big concert held in connection with the affair, in which the very best local talent will be represented and which will be one of the biggest stunts of the evening.

Amuse Not Instruct. The aquatic activities will be equally large, quite as inclusive and more amusing, if anything.

To begin with, a procession of gaily decorated boats, launches and canoes will mend its way about 2 o'clock from the Causeway to the Gorge. This will be worth seeing. At 2.30 the competitive and exhibition events will commence, and a splendid programme has been arranged. But the idea is not like that of Kahanamoku's gala, which was more or less of an education; the great idea towards which all else will be subordinated is to amuse and amaze. Therefore, the high power brains of the officials who are staging the event were set in motion devising novel and exciting ways and means.

Big Diving Stunts. The events are new, and many of them unheard of. But they will all amuse, that is the big idea. Canoe tilting and peculiar races play an important part in the programme, and there is mention made of a curious centipede race, whatever that is. And a tug-of-war in the water is also planned. The high diving apparatus, at whose height Kahanamoku was really astounded, will be formally baptised, though Mrs. Crab and Billy Muir dived from it, much to the delight of the visiting swimmers during the big gala then. In fact diving will be one of the biggest and undoubtedly the most spectacular stunts of the day.

Then at night the waters of the Gorge will reflect the bright colored lights and the fair maids ensconced in the boats that will form the big illuminated procession. This will also be something unusual. And dancing will proceed in the B. C. Electric Park simultaneously and continually.

OAK BAY SPORTS. Then at Oak Bay there will be big doings.

The affair will, in no sense, be an ordinary sports meet though the competitive spirit will be given an opportunity to exert itself in the athletic track and field events. However, the big noise will be the unusual and genuinely novel attractions arranged for. Mounted events will be one of these stunts, and some remarkable stunts on the heavy backs of horses are planned by the committee in charge. This will undoubtedly be the drawing card of the day, though all who wish to see something like an Old Country fair will certainly turn up at the grounds.

The races will be pulled off simultaneously with exhibitions of diverse characters in front of the grand stand.

SISLER OF ST. LOUIS TAKES FIRST PLACE

Ten Hits in Six Games Gives Him Position; Cobb Shows Speed

Chicago, June 29.—Driving out ten hits in his last six games, George Sisler, St. Louis star, takes first place in the American League list of batters. Sisler is batting .351, seven points ahead of George Burns, of Philadelphia, the leader a week ago. Sisler also is leading the league in stolen bases, having twenty-nine. Ty Cobb, of Detroit, is showing a burst of his old-time speed, having tied Gilheoley, of New York, for scoring honors. Each has registered forty-one. The Georgian also is climbing steadily in batting, being in the list of leaders with .324.

"Babe" Ruth, the Boston pitcher, bagged another home run during the week, bringing his total to nine. Cobb, of Boston, with twenty, continues to lead in sacrifice hits. New York leads in team batting with .263 and Boston in fielding with .974.

Leading batters who have played in twenty-five or more games are: Sisler, St. Louis, .351; Burns, Philadelphia, .344; Baker, New York, .336; Ruth, Boston, .325; Cobb, Detroit, .324; Milan, Washington, .323; Walker, Philadelphia, .320; Pipp, New York, .309; McMulligan, Chicago, .303; Speaker, Cleveland, .302.

In the National League Fred Merkle, the Chicago first-baseman, is getting even with those who dubbed him a "bonehead." Merkle continues to lead the way with an average of .360, and is tied with Benny Kauff, of New York, for total base hits, each having 180.

In fifty-seven games Merkle has made seventy-four hits. His record includes sixteen doubles, two triples and two home runs. He also has scored twenty runs. Burns, of New York, however, excels in scoring, having forty-one. Carey, of Pittsburgh, added two stolen bases to his credit, bringing his total up to twenty-seven. Roush, Cincinnati, and Mann, of Chicago, are tied for sacrifice hitting with fourteen.

Chicago leads the league in team batting with .372, and New York in club fielding with .970. Leading batters who have played in twenty-five or more games are: Merkle, Chicago, .360; Daubert, Brooklyn, .347; Smith, Boston, .346; Groh, Cincinnati, .337; Kauff, New York, .324; Mann, Chicago, .322; Wickland, Boston, .314; Holliday, Chicago, .313; Williams, Philadelphia, .308; Young, New York, .305.

LITTLE GIRL'S CLEVER SWIMMING PERFORMANCE

One of the most remarkable and noticeable stunts pulled off in connection with the big Kahanamoku gala last week was the swimming exhibition by Victoria's youngest mermaid Eileen Shotbolt, who has just passed her fifth milestone. Lack of space only prevented the performance of this clever splash artist from being reported in the account of the momentous proceedings of that day. The little girl swam some thirty yards in water that was about fifteen times over her depth, and showed that she has great possibilities as a swimmer starting as she has in her infancy. The stunt was watched with the utmost interest by Duke, who was much surprised that a girl of that age who was not brought up in Hawaii could swim at all.

What Is Doing Monday

At the Jubilee Hospital grounds, starting at half-past ten in the morning, the big cricket game with Vancouver. In aid of Red Cross.

At Oak Bay terminus, commencing at two in the afternoon and continuing until about seven, when the prizes will be distributed, the field sports and mounted gymnastics. After seven the grounds will be thrown open and side shows will be kept going until dark. For Red Cross.

At Gorge, in front of V. I. A. Clubhouse, aquatic sports, commencing at a quarter to three and continuing until they are finished. Boat parade at two, and the concessions will be going strong all the time. Concert and illuminated boat parade at night. For Red Cross.

At Alexandra Club, at nine in the evening, flannel dance for visiting cricketers. For Red Cross.

Regatta at Cowichan Bay, sports, and the dance in the evening. For Red Cross.

FANS AND FANTASIES

If annual holidays could only be postponed like by-elections and the taking of Paris the athletic fraternity and also the sporting scribbles would be given an opportunity of recuperating from the excitement of Duke's visit before being plunged into the vortex of Dominion Day.

Billy Davies lost ten pounds in weight through his work on the Kahanamoku affair. As chairman of the sports committee for the Gorge Carnival he faces the dread possibility of losing another fifteen anyway.

The Fulton Dempsey bout seems to be in need of a little stronger stimulant than is provided at a soda fountain.

To a fan with an ounce of sympathy in his composition the endless prolongation of the death agonies of certain boxing bouts which have been lately is very trying. The way some of the prospective fights have been allowed to linger and die a miserable death should be brought to the attention of the S. F. C. A. The Fulton-Dempsey affair seems to be pretty ill, and it might be well to kill it, and be done with the matter.

"Shoelace." That's a funny name to hang onto a ball-player, isn't it? Did you ever know how Joe Jackson, the great old Cleveland pill-tosser ever come by this appellation? It happened thus: It was while he was playing a game at Anderson, for Greenville, in the Grangers State League, that he wore new shoes one day that so blistered his feet that when he showed up for the next game of the series he could hardly walk. His manager insisted on his playing, as he was the real star of the team. The pain was so excruciating that Joe had to take off his shoes. Then it was that somebody in the bleachers shouted "Hey, 'Shoelace' Joe," at him, and the name has stuck.

Quite some boxing fans believe that Lew Tindler can take the lightweight title away from Benny Leonard. Lew having a chance to cop the title means that Lew will not get the chance to perform the performance of this clever splash artist from being reported in the account of the momentous proceedings of that day. The little girl swam some thirty yards in water that was about fifteen times over her depth, and showed that she has great possibilities as a swimmer starting as she has in her infancy. The stunt was watched with the utmost interest by Duke, who was much surprised that a girl of that age who was not brought up in Hawaii could swim at all.

Willard was not allowed to beat up Fulton so he resorted to punching cows in desperation.

A year ago Lefty Williams and Dave Danforth, the two youngest pitchers of the White Sox, were grinningly referred to as the fifty-fifty brothers, the subtle meaning being that each of them was good for half a ball game and the other good enough to finish it. Neither, it was declared, was good enough to go the full route and win a contest. To-day that reference is in limbo with the rest of the things unnecessary to baseball. Joe Benz faltered recently as he faced the Senators. Danforth relieved him and won his game after eleven innings of hard fighting. Dave has arrived. Aside from the performance of Danforth and the record of Claude Williams's work so far has been a thing of joy. He has been the most consistent and most effective pitcher on the White Sox staff. He lost an eighteen-inning game to Walter Johnson, 1 to 0, on a wild pitch, allowing the Senators but eight hits.

TWO SWIMMING CLUBS ARE JOINED TOGETHER TO MUTUAL ADVANTAGE

That the Victoria ladies and the Victoria Amateur Swimming Clubs amalgamated at a meeting held recently was the statement issued by the officials of the new club this morning. This idea had been talked of in swimming circles for some time but as no action had been taken in the matter and the news will come as a considerable surprise to most fans. It is not known what the name of the new organization will go under but there is no doubt that with the best splash artists of both clubs under its colors it will enjoy the utmost success. The men's section of the club has received an invitation from the ladies to swim at the latter's headquarters on Tuesday and Saturday evenings and afterwards. The club has arranged for a large number of entries for the gala to be held on July 1, amongst whom will be Miss Robertson, Mrs. Dalziel, Mrs. Hiberson, Angus McKinnon and J. Wellburn, and the swimmers are confident that they will repeat their successful performances of June 27.

BOXING TO-NIGHT.

To-night at the K. of P. Hall Charlie Ricca will mix with an unknown opponent, commencing at 8 o'clock. There will also be an exhibition of boxing, in which Charlie's brother will figure.

Early in April there was opened in Rutland Square, Edinburgh, a splendid club house for colonial and United States nurses who visit Great Britain when released from their arduous duties in France. The building was originally a club house for men of the overseas forces and so completely did the house fulfil its mission of giving comfort and rest it was soon impossible to accommodate all the applicants. On moving the men's club to new quarters the Rutland Square house was fitted up by a citizen interested in providing comfortable quarters for visiting nurses. There is sleeping accommodation for sixteen and the charges for meals and bed are very reasonable. The expectation is that the owners of many beautiful Scottish estates will supplement the hospitality of the club house by invitations to their country homes. The Edinburgh branch of the Victoria League is responsible for the club house and of which the Marchioness of Linlithgow is president.

ST. MICHAEL'S SCHOOL ANNUAL PRIZE GIVING

Over Two Hundred Attend
Pleasing Ceremony in Mrs.
Rattenbury's Gardens

The beautiful gardens at the home of Mr. and Mrs. F. Rattenbury, Beach Drive, Oak Bay, formed an ideal setting for the annual prize-giving held in connection with St. Michael's school for boys. The little ceremony took place yesterday afternoon and over two hundred and fifty guests representing the parents and friends of the pupils gathered on the lawns for the auspicious occasion.

K. Symons, principal of the school, opened the proceedings with a happy little address recounting the progress of the school since its inception by him eight years ago—during which period the number of pupils had doubled. Dr. A. B. Hudson then presented the prizes to each of the successful students with a few words of congratulation to each boy.

A splendid exhibition of physical drill given with military precision and smartness was carried out by two squads, composed of senior and one of junior students. The cup presented to the junior giving the best exhibition of drill was won by Rollo Martin, while Hugh Beck won the similar award for the seniors. In the unavoidable absence of Major W. H. Langley, who was to have judged the drill, Capt. Andrews undertook the pleasing duty and warmly praised the boys for their proficiency. Much amusement and admiration was aroused by the illustrated recitations given in English, French and Latin by a number of small boys, one group who gave the doggerel about "My Mondays Are Meatless" in the three languages, being but tiny tots.

A presentation of scenes from Shakespeare's comedy "Twelfth Night" gained added charm from the sylvan setting, while the boys showed exceptional ability in acting and elocution. Worthy of special mention was the "Duchess Olivia" of Ian Sterling, whose portrayal of the feminine part won for him a special prize of a camera. Hugh Beck as Malvolio, Louis Hyndman as Viola, and Ernie Money as Andrew Ague-cheek were excellent in their various roles.

At the conclusion of the programme tea was served under the trees. Among those noticed at the gathering were Bishop and Mrs. Lander of Hongkong; Mrs. R. B. McMicking, M. A. Grainger, Chief Forester and Mrs. Grainger, Dr. and Mrs. Scott-Moncrieff, Rev. Robt. Connell, and Mrs. Connell and others.

Must Stamp Matches.—Intimation is received from the Collector of Inland Revenue that the Special War Revenue Act as amended requires that every wholesale and retail dealer shall affix on each unstamped package of matches an adhesive or other stamp of the value of one cent for each one hundred matches or fraction of one hundred matches contained in such package, and an adhesive or other stamp of the value of eight cents on each package containing fifty-four or fraction of fifty-four playing cards, held for sale on the first of July, 1918. The stamp to be used is the Inland Revenue War Tax Stamp. The penalty for failing to affix it is a fine of from $50 to $250. Dealers in cutting sections should apply for stamps to the Collector's Office, Post Office Building.

MANY ENJOYED CAFE CHANTANT AND DANCE

Event Organized by Army and Navy Veterans Proves
Popular Success

Many enjoyed the open-air cafe chantant held on the grounds adjoining the Alexander Club last evening. The affair was under the auspices of the Army and Navy Veterans' Club, who with the assistance of a number of Victoria's best entertainers, gave a programme full of variety. The grounds presented a very festive appearance, with strings of colored lights, and patriotic decorations, while a bevy of young ladies attended to the wants of all comers who sat around tables and in little niches here and there.

The programme was as follows: Selections, Army and Navy Veterans' Band; song and dance, Hunt Girls' Pierrot Quartette; song, Miss Mamie Fraser; humorous song, Mr. Menelaus; song, Miss Haggerty; song, Mrs. Harry Pooley; song, Sgt. Major Merriweather; song and dance, Hunt Girls' Pierrot Quartette; song, Mrs. Briggs; song, Mr. Menelaus; accompanist, Mrs. A. J. Gibson.

At the close of the programme, Capt. Craddock, the chairman of the club, announced that this was the first of a series of out-door entertainments which would occur at regular intervals, and asked for the continued patronage of the public to aid the enterprise.

Before repatriating to the Alexander hall for an informal dance, further interest was created by the appearance of Frank Giolma, the successful "Returned Soldier" candidate, who expressed his thanks for the support given him in the election, and who urged on all the necessity of unity for the accomplishment of greater things in the city of Victoria. His slogan was: "Stand solid behind the best men; get on the Voters' List, and stay on!" He pointed out that hundreds of both sexes had gone to the polls to vote, only to find, to their dismay, that their names were not on the list. As Mr. Giolma left the platform he was greeted with rounds of applause.

FORMER VICTORIAN WEDS AT SEATTLE

Miss May Bate, Well-Known
Throughout Vancouver Island, Married Thursday

The bride's many friends on Vancouver Island will doubtless be interested in the following extract from The Post-Intelligencer of yesterday's date:

"Another Seattle man took an out-of-town girl as his bride, when Andrew M. Gillespie, of this city, was married last evening to Miss A. May Bate, of Berkeley, Cal. The marriage service took place at St. Mark's Episcopal Church, in Berkeley, at 8:30 o'clock. White flowers of various kinds relieved by soft greens were the decorations. Rev. Mr. Martyn officiated. The bride wore a handsome costume, a Doucet model of white satin and net. The gown was made with a panel effect front and back which was heavily beaded. The bodice and sleeves were of net, the latter made in the new angel effect. Her veil of tulle was caught to her hair with a spray of orange blossoms. She carried a shower bouquet of bride roses and lilies of the valley.

Her sole attendant was her cousin, Miss Grace Heathcote, who wore a gown of pale pink Georgette crepe with chiffon hat to match. She carried orchids and pink roses. A. A. Wilson, of Berkeley, acted as best man. After the ceremony a few relatives and close friends were entertained at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Bruce. Heathcote, uncle and aunt of the bride. Mr. and Mrs. Gillespie left for a motor trip in their roadster, which will extend through the summer and will include a tour of California. They will be at home the latter part of August at 1664 Federal Avenue."

EXEMPTED MAN WILL BECOME AN AVIATOR

Though exempted on three different claims this young Victorian decided to do his bit as an aviator. For considerably over four years past Mr. Marshall was in charge of the gramophone department of Fletcher's Music Store, and he was known locally in connection with football and swimming.

WILL CONSIDER ANY OF MEMBER'S ADVICE

Premier Oliver Always Ready for Light on a Complex Problem

"Any assistance and advice that the member-elect is able to give to us will have our earnest and serious consideration," observed Premier Oliver this morning, reflecting upon the result of yesterday's by-election. The Premier agrees that there cannot be too much light thrown on any methods that are necessary and practicable as a means towards solving the problem of rehabilitating the returned soldier.

"The voters sympathized, as we all do, and showed their desire to do everything possible to benefit the returned men," went on Mr. Oliver, "but I'm sure that many of them voted under a misapprehension not only in respect of what the Government has done, is doing, and what it intends to do, but also as to its powers to do what it would very much like to do." Mr. Oliver hopes that the expectations of the returned men and their dependents have not been raised to a greater extent than any amount of Provincial effort can expect to fulfil with the best will in the world.

HE'S SO SHY.

I had a run round town with the shyest man in the kingdom the other night—Jack Pleasant, you know. But the comedian wasn't too shy to make the following bright remarks:
"Kissing is the only permissible double-faced action there is. A kiss is the only thing one may steal without being a criminal—unless you count stealing a glance!"—Tit-Bits.

STEAMER WAR NOOTKA HAVING HER TRIALS

Taking Spin This Afternoon Over Parry Bay Course; New Boilers in War Yukon

At noon to-day the wooden steamship War Nootka left the harbor for the measured course in Parry Bay, and this afternoon is being put through her paces to test out her speed and other sea-going qualities. Only officials associated with the Imperial Munitions Board went out on the steamer, which is commanded by Capt. King, of the Fernie Line. The War Nootka is the second of the fleet building under the present wooden shipbuilding programme, and was constructed at the Vancouver plant of the Western Canada Shipyard, Ltd.

The new boilers have been installed in the wooden steamship War Yukon, the work having been completed within a couple of weeks. The boilers were thoroughly tested out yesterday as the vessel lay alongside the wharf, and were declared to be satisfactory. The vessels now being equipped with machinery at the Ogden Point assembly plant are the War Songhees, War Selkirk, War Comox, War Cariboo and War Tatla.

War Skena Shifts.
The War Skena, launched recently at the Cameron-Genoa shipyard here, has now been turned over to Hutchison Bros. to be equipped with power. The War Skena is now berthed alongside the firm's Upper Harbor plant, and a start will be immediately made in installing the machinery.

SCARCITY OF MEN MAY FORCE FISHING CRAFT TO LAY UP

Vancouver, June 28.—The shortage of fishermen for the halibut steamer is creating a situation which may lead to the tying up of the vessels, according to A. L. Hager, manager of the New England Fish Company. The steamer Imbecaria has reached port with only 12,000 pounds of halibut and 20,000 pounds of cod. The vessel had her full complement of master, mates, deck hands, engineers and firemen, but only four fishermen were available. The steamer Canada has sailed and she also has only four fishermen.

NOTICE TO MARINERS

Mariners are warned that the change is now being made in the characteristic of the light at East Point, Saturna Island, and for the next few days, while every endeavor will be made to keep a light burning, mariners should not place too much reliance on same.

See Notice to Mariners No. 31 of 1918.

Mariners are advised that the lighted pile beacon hitherto used to mark Middle Rock, Victoria Harbor, will be discontinued on or about Monday, June 24, 1918, this rock having been removed.

A new beacon has been constructed on the southern extremity of Pelly Island, having a concrete base surmounted by a slowwork drum with a white light on top. The light being seventeen feet above high water.

There still being shoal water outside the position of this beacon, a black platform buoy will be maintained due south seventy-five feet from the beacon until such time as the shoal is removed.

This buoy is moored in fifteen feet of water at low tide and deep draught vessels are requested not to hold the buoy aboard closer than twenty feet, which will keep them in the deep channel.

VANCOUVER SHIPPING.

The new Japanese cargo vessel Orinodo Maru, 3,300 tons, was only in port a few hours and proceeded to Seattle after discharging a shipment of peanuts.

NEW CONCRETE BARGE WILL PLY TO VICTORIA FEDERAL TUGS ARE BEING LENGTHENED

Border Line Transportation Company Charters Newly-Launched Vessel

The Border Line Transportation Company has chartered a 550-ton concrete barge, launched at the Seattle yard of the Inter-Ocean Barge & Transport Co., and will operate the vessel in the general freight business between Seattle, Victoria and other British Columbia ports.

The completed concrete barge was put into the water on Wednesday and will almost immediately be available for service. The dimensions of the craft are: Length, 116 feet; beam, 34.9 feet; and depth 10 feet.

The barge was designed primarily to carry 550 tons on her deck, but the hull is divided into eight watertight compartments that can be used for transporting oils and other liquid cargo in bulk.

The vessel is equipped with six large compartments and two smaller ones, the latter being located forward and aft. The skeleton of the barge is similar to that of a steel ship, consisting of steel frames. These form the ribs of an intricate network of steel rods which range from one-half inch to an inch and a half in thickness. All the stress and strain is carried by the steel network and the vessel is of staunch construction. The sides, bottom and deck of the barge are three and a half inches thick.

The Border Line Transportation Company, which concern will operate the concrete vessel, has been engaged in the Puget Sound-British Columbia trade for a number of years, and is still operating the steamer Fulton and motor-barge Wakana on the route. The company also operates extensively in the local agents.

The Inter-Ocean Barge & Transport Co., builders of the concrete barge, plan to build concrete vessels on a large scale, and for this purpose have acquired a new site on the Duwamish Waterway at Seattle. Two concrete steamships will be laid down immediately, one of 1,200 tons and the other of 1,500 tons. These vessels, when completed, will be operated in the Pacific coastwise trade.

VESSEL IS FIXED AT RECORD CHARTER RATE FOR LUMBER

Seattle, June 28.—When a freight tariff of 200 shillings per 1,000 for lumber to South Africa was quoted some months ago the Seattle rates for lumber-carrying to those far-off ports had been reached but yesterday it became known that Comyn, Mackell & Company, operators of the Port Blake-Snow & Burgess, chartered the schooner Snow & Burgess at 220 shillings, the highest such rate ever paid for lumber.

The Snow & Burgess is one of the most famous of the old-time sailing craft on the Pacific. In her Pacific coast career she was originally owned by Capt. A. P. Lauritsen, of San Francisco, and was later acquired by Andy Mahoney, who sold the vessel recently to G. Henry Smith, and it was from the latter firm that the Comyn, Mackell charter was made.

Up to a few years ago charter rates for lumber to South Africa were listed at from 62 to 65 shillings, with the latter price being figured as extraordinarily large.

C. N. R. FERRY IS VERY FINE CRAFT

Vessel Recently Launched for Patricia Bay Service is of Serviceable Type

TRANS-GULF CAR CARRIER SHORTLY IN COMMISSION

Details are now available concerning the type of construction of the steel car ferry Canora, launched at Lauson, Que., on June 10, and destined to arrive on this coast in August for operation in the Canadian Northern Pacific ferry service between Port Mann and Patricia Bay. The ferry has the following dimensions: Length over all, 308 feet; length between perpendiculars, 294 feet; breadth moulded, 52 feet; depth moulded to car deck, 20½ feet; depth moulded to shelter deck, 28½ feet; draft loaded, 14½ feet; displacement at loaded draft, 3,400 tons; speed, 14 knots; number of cars carried, 20.

Lloyd's Supervision.
The ferry was constructed under the supervision of Lloyd's Register of Shipping and will be classed 100A as a train ferry for coast and river service. The construction is on the transverse framing principle, open bottom type, and the hull is subdivided into six main transverse watertight compartments. Above the car deck, at a height of eighteen feet, there is a complete shelter deck, extending the full length and width of the vessel, and on this deck being located the accommodation for passengers and officers.

Passenger Accommodation.
This accommodation will include rooms for officers, a large dining saloon, parlor, staterooms for passengers, smoking-room, galley and pantry, bathroom and lavatories, and a large observation cabin forward. The staterooms will be tastefully finished, fitted with berths, clothes closets, wash basins and other conveniences. The dining saloon will be finished in oak panelling and will have a large dome in the centre, with lights extending all round the dome. Above this accommodation will be located the pilot house, and at the stern a pilot house for use in docking the vessel.

As the vessel will have to go astern for a distance on her run, she has been designed with propellers at both ends, also steering gears and rudders, and in connection with this arrangement the navigating lights, engine-room telegraph and steering standards will be arranged to automatically change over to suit the reversed conditions. Steam heating will be provided in all rooms. The ventilation to all spaces will be provided through patent ventilators carried well above the roof of the shelter deck.

Propelling Machinery.
The main propelling machinery will consist of a four-cylinder, triple-expansion, surface condensing engine, balanced on the Yarrow, Schlick & Treadwell system, having cylinders 24, 38 and 42 in., with a stroke of 30 in., and indicating about 3,200 horsepower. The engine will drive a screw propeller at each end of the vessel, the shafting running the full length of the ship. Steam will be supplied by four Scotch return tubular boilers, 14½ feet in diameter by 11 feet long, working at a pressure of 175 lbs. to the square inch, located in two boiler rooms, one on each side of the ship. Each boiler will have two corrugated furnaces, 41 in. in diameter and there will be a complete installation of forced draft. The total heating surface for the four boilers will be 5,500 square feet.

The surface condenser will be of the triangular type and will have a cooling surface of 2,300 square feet. The condenser pump for the main condenser will be of the centrifugal type and will be driven by its own engine. The Canora will be of a similar type to the car ferries operated on the Great Lakes, with the exception of a rolling gate fitted at the stern to close the space between decks where the railway cars will be carried. The gate will be operated by a steam winch at the forward end of the shelter deck.

The vessel was designed by A. A. Strom, naval architect, and built by the Davie Shipbuilding & Repair Co., Ltd., at Quebec. The propelling machinery is supplied by the John Inglis Co., of Toronto.

ARCTIC NAVIGATOR AWARDED BACK GRANT

Capt. Robert Bartlett's Leadership Recognized by Royal Geographical Society

Ottawa, June 28.—The Royal Geographical Society has awarded the Back Grant this year to Captain R. A. Bartlett for distinguished leadership during the loss of the Canadian Government steamer Karluk, according to an announcement made by the Naval Department. This grant, which consists of a sum of $14, was founded by the Admiralty in 1891, and is given to the leader of an expedition, the late Admiral Sir George Back, for the reward and encouragement of scientific geographers and discoverers.

Captain Bartlett commanded the steam schooner Karluk, on which the Stefansson Expedition left Victoria in the spring of 1913, to carry out exploration work in the Beaufort Sea and the Arctic region. The ship was caught in the ice and during the winter of 1913-14, drifted across the Arctic Ocean and finally was crushed and sank some distance north of Herald Island. Captain Bartlett took charge of the survivors and led them back to Wrangell Island. Accompanied by one Ekimko, he then undertook the dangerous ice journey across the straits to the Siberian mainland and then overland to Emma Harbor, whence he took passage for Alaska to advise the Naval Department of the wreck of the ship and the plight of his companions. As the result of his courage and skill in undertaking this trip relief parties were organized and the survivors of the Karluk were brought back to civilization.

ONONDAGA WRECKED ON ATLANTIC REEF CREW WERE SAVED

Boston, June 28.—The steamer Onondaga, Boston for Florida ports, struck a reef off Watch Hill last night and went to the bottom. The crew of thirty-five were saved.

The Onondaga, a Clyde Line freighter, left here Thursday afternoon in command of Capt. George G. Goff. The line here said they had received no direct word of the sinking of the ship from the captain early to-day, although they learned later from naval authorities that the crew had been saved.

CHIEF ENGINEER OF C. P. R. WESTERN LINES IS ABOUT TO RETIRE

Winnipeg, June 28.—John G. Sullivan, who has been chief engineer of the Western Lines of the C. P. R. for a number of years, will retire from that position on July 1. He probably will engage in private practice, but also will retain his connection with the railway company in a consulting capacity. For the present it is his intention to take a rest because of a slight impairment of health due to the strain of his heavy duties, more particularly the construction of the Connaught Tunnel through the Selkirk.

JUSTICE IS OLDER THAN THE WORLD.

Fight on, thou brave true heart, and falter not though dark fortune and through bright. The cause thou fightest for, so far as it is true, no farther, yet precisely so far, is every such victory. DIRECTORS SHOW BETTER STATUS OF JUBILEE HOSPITAL

Financial Circumstances Have Improved in Spite of Increasing Cost

PATRIOTIC RECORD OF NURSES TOLD

The finances of the Royal Jubilee Hospital are relatively in far better shape to-day than twelve months ago. This was shown to the annual meeting late yesterday afternoon, President R. S. Day in the chair.

Finances.

The institution has received $44,258 from grants and subscriptions, of which the Government per diem allowance totalled $22,774, the city grant $18,000, Saanich $1,174, Oak Bay $1,444 and Esquimalt, $743. Fees from patients, less refunds, totalled $46,170. Requests to the total of $5,800 were received, the aggregate of all receipts being $101,552. This includes $6,890 transferred to building account. Operating expenses of the institution aggregated $96,263, the overdraft being reduced from $3,053 to $2,289. These results were attained in spite of an increase in the per diem cost per patient from $2.03 in 1917 to $2.17. Expenditure divided: Maintenance, $25,128.77; professional care of patients, $23,616.27; board, $6,802.25; grounds, $1,841.55; furnaces, $4,905.36; house and property, $9,302.66; administration, $3,662.33.

Hon. Treasurer J. A. Mara presented the financial statement, which was adopted.

Building Extensions.

Secretary G. T. Carver read the directors' report, which stated: "The number of patients treated in all departments was 2,010, showing an increase of ninety-one. The daily average number of patients was 115, being an increase of eight per day, and the total number of days' treatment was 42,133, an increase of 3,935 days over last year."

The report reviewed the building activities of the year, which have been reported from time to time. It alluded to the tubercular ward, opened a year ago, and the addition to the Nurses' Home. The conversion of rooms for a diet kitchen and the laundry situation were referred to. The report, speaking of the Nurses' Home, said: "While it is not entirely paid for, we trust the continued liberality of friends will enable us to declare it free from debt at an early date. The home is now admirably equipped for the comfort and teaching of our nursing staff."

The report reviewed the efforts made to increase financial contributions from the Government and City.

With reference to the increased City grant the directors stated: "We are pleased to be able to record this growing appreciation on the part of the City

Major Bishop, V. C. Has Had Meteoric Career as Airman.

Major W. Bishop, V.C., D.S.O., M.C., the famous Canadian airman, nephew of E. W. Bishop of the Bishop Hardware Co., Oak Bay Junction, who has just been recalled from France to join the Air Ministry, has had one of the most remarkable and spectacular careers in the history of the present war.

The young airman who is still in his early twenties, has, during his meteoric career brought down seventy-two enemy machines under circumstances which have earned for him his many decorations, coupled with the reputation of being one of the most daring flyers in the world. As far as can be learned from available statistics he holds the highest record for number of machines brought down, among the Allied aces. Even Capt. Ball, the English V.C., who was killed in action recently, had only forty-eight machines to his credit at the close of his career, and he was an ace long before Major Bishop commenced flying.

Council, and tender our hearty thanks to the Mayor and Aldermen."

Departed Directors.

The report dealt next with the appointment of Dr. Herbert Rogers as resident medical superintendent, and Dr. W. P. Walker as pathologist, and then recorded the services of deceased members of the board, the late Richard Hall and Alexander Wilson. Dr. O. M. Jones' passing came in for fitting allusion.

Affiliation.

The report continued: "The Board on the advice of the superintendent of nurses elaborated an affiliation scheme under which ladies who have commenced their training in the small hospitals of the Province can at the end of their first year enter our training school and complete their term there. Due care has been taken to conserve the interests of the small hospitals as well as ours and it is hoped the scheme will be of considerable benefit to all concerned."

Then followed a list of acknowledgments to various citizens and organizations which are aiding the institution.

The report was approved without comment.

Patriotic Nurses.

"The great tragedy being enacted in Europe," said Miss Mackenzie, lady superintendent, in her report, "has given the nursing profession an opportunity for helpful service to humanity, and we are proud that thirty-eight of our graduates have been assigned service in the different countries now at war, and several have distinguished themselves. MAKING POISON-GAS FOR GERMANY

My Work in a Hun Chemical Factory.

By a Neutral Chemist in TIT-BITS.

When war broke out I was employed by the firm of Bayer & Co. at Barmen. This firm possesses vast laboratories and employs hundreds of chemists.

By the expression "chemist" I do not mean a man who sells drugs behind a counter but a trained scientist who analyses and creates drugs and other material substances. Germany has scores of these men for every one that exists in Britain.

Some six months after the war started I transferred by labors to a large chemical manufacturing firm near Frankfurt. A very much higher salary was offered me, and that was the sole reason for my move.

Secret Devilment.

When I had been there a short time all the chemists employed were summoned before the director. We were then told that we were to be employed on national work of such extreme importance that it involved our being practically prisoners for a time. Huts were being erected near the factory for our use and the whole factory area was to be isolated by a barbed wire fence, which was patrolled by armed sentries day and night. We were not to leave the premises until the work was completed, nor were we to write to our friends except on a Feld Karte (field postcard), stating we were alive and well. We were supposed to be at the front.

Had it been possible, more than one of us would have left the place and warned the world of the fiendish plot being prepared. But it was impossible. To attempt to escape meant instant and certain death. The barbed wire was a "live" wire, and we should have been electrocuted. We had to stay.

Chlorine is a dense, heavy, greenish-yellow gas that clings to the ground and inflicts the most horrible tortures on those whom it falls to slay outright. Almost every schoolboy, and anyone who has dabbled in chemistry at all, knows how intensely acrid and burning is the effect on the throat and lungs obtained from the gas produced from a few grains of salt and black oxide of manganese and vitriol in a test-tube, even when cautiously sniffed at arm's length. The imagination reels at the prospect of chlorine produced from tons of salt and manganese.

Extraordinary care and precaution had to be taken by us in its manufacture, for had any appreciable quantity of it escaped it would have killed hundreds of people for miles around. We wore gas helmets when at work; as these were close and uncomfortable, we had one hour on and one hour off. Our day, too, was only a short one of a few hours.

Terrible "Tear" Gas.

There was a railway siding inside the factory premises, and the strong iron cylinders in which the gas was stored ready for use were carefully placed on specially-constructed steel carriages. These trains proceeded very slowly, with a pilot engine ahead.

FRECKLES

Now is the Time to Get Rid of These Ugly Spots.

There's no longer the slightest need of feeling ashamed of your freckles, as Othine—double strength—is guaranteed to remove these homely spots. Simply get an ounce of Othine—double strength—from any druggist and apply a little of it night and morning and you should soon see that even the worst freckles have begun to disappear, while the lighter ones have vanished entirely. It is seldom that more than an ounce is needed to completely clear the skin and gain a beautiful clear complexion.

Be sure to ask for the double strength Othine, as this is sold under guarantee of money back if it fails to remove freckles.

They always travelled by night. Numbers of these iron cylinders containing the deadly gas were placed at selected and strongly guarded "dumps" a few miles behind the German front lines.

At time went on we were put to work on other deadly gases that had been invented by the chemical experts of the Fatherland. There was the "tear" gas, which causes the eyes to stream with water and so makes a man tear off his gas helmet. A dose of chlorine then follows, with generally fatal results. This "tear" gas was manufactured from pepper which was sent to Germany through neutral countries.

Now I have left Germany, probably for ever. But I cannot help concluding with the warning that the devilish ingenuity of German chemists is not yet exhausted.

Quebec, June 29.—Lady Leblanc, Major Victor Pelletier, Mrs. Pelletier and N. Belleau, a local broker, figured in an automobile accident on the Quebec-Montreal highway Friday, when their car skidded on the road and crashed against a post a few feet from a little bridge spanning a deep brook.

AUSTRIAN AGENT REPORTED TO HAVE TRIED TO GET IN TOUCH WITH THE ENTENTE

Toronto, June 29.—A special dispatch to The Toronto Mail and Empire from a correspondent at Zurich, Switzerland, says:

"I have learned from a good source that the Austro-Hungarian Government, through an official representative in Switzerland, made an attempt in the last few days to discover the Allied standpoint upon certain important questions. The emissary of the Dual Monarchy represented himself as being very close to Emperor Charles. Contact with the Allies was not established and he returned to Vienna."

London, June 29.—Emperor Charles of Austria-Hungary has refused to accept the resignation of the Austrian Premier, Dr. von Seydler, and has summoned the Austrian Parliament to meet on July 16, according to an Exchange Telegraph dispatch from Copenhagen, which states that the Vienna newspapers have published an autograph letter from the Emperor to Dr. von Seydler to this effect.

SAYS PROFITEERING EXISTS IN STATES OF RUSSIAN HATRED OF GERMANS GROWS

Trade Commission Reports After Investigating Some Foods and Minerals

Washington, June 29.—Investigations have led to the conclusion that profiteering exists among American industries at the present time, due in part to advantage being taken of "war pressure for heavy production and in part to 'inordinate greed and barefaced fraud,' the Federal Trade Commission announced to-day in a report sent to the Senate. The report was submitted in response to a resolution asking the Commission to furnish the Senate with all figures and information relative to profiteering in order that steps might be taken to remedy present conditions.

Outstanding features of the report, each supported by extensive data, are: The heavy profits made by the low cost concerns under Government fixed prices for the war; The heavy profits made by the meat packers and allied industries and by the flour millers.

The trade tendency to increase and maintain prices against the force of competition.

The report is based on cost findings by the Commission for the War Industries Board, the Food Administration, the Fuel Administration and other executive departments on industrial surveys and through enforcement of laws against unfair methods of competition. The products investigated and which the report covers are steel, copper, zinc, nickel, sulphur, lumber, flour, canned milk and canned salmon. Salaries and bonuses paid higher officials also were the subject of inquiry.

Price-fixing by the Government, the report says, has tended to prevent the market from running away, but at the same time it strengthens the stronger factors in industry in the position and enriches them by profits "which are without precedent."

While the price of flour has been stabilized by fixing a price for wheat and a maximum margin of profit on flour, the report shows that profits increased from an average of twelve per cent. on the investment for the four years ending June 30, 1916, to nearly thirty-eight per cent. in the year ended June 30, 1917.

"These profits," it is stated, "are indefensible considering that an average of one mill for six months of the year shows as high as $2 a barrel. Many millers exceeded the Government maximum for profit and to that extent the profits were larger and in general were very great."

The report declares that unprecedented profits are shown in a survey of the packing industry. In this connection it is said: "Five meat packers, Armour, Swift, Morris, Wilson and Cudahy, and their subsidiaries and affiliated companies have monopolistic control of the meat in many parts of the country and are reaching out for like domination in other products. Their manipulations of the market embrace every device that is useful to them without regard to law. Their reward expressed in terms of profit reveals that four of these concerns pocketed in 1915, 1916 and 1917, $140,000,000."

However, delicate as definition is framed for "profiteering," these packers have "preyed upon the people unconscionably."

KILLED BY TRAIN.

Moone Jaw, June 29.—That John Carleton, a farmer, of Pasqua, and Mrs. Mary A. Harrison, of Richley, Ont., were accidentally killed by C. P. R. express train on June 22, was the verdict of the coroner's jury. Carleton, Mrs. Harrison and Mrs. Smith were coming to the city to register, when the express crashed into the automobile. Mrs. Smith is improving and may live.

IN MEMORIAM.

YEAR'S OUTLAY BY U. S. $12,600,000,000

To Date War Operations Have Cost American Republic $13,800,000,000

Washington, June 29.—The United States Government to-day closed its books for the fiscal year just ended—the first full fiscal year the country has been in the war—and on Monday will open new annual records. In Government financial history the year will go down as a period of expense hardly dreamed of a decade ago. More than $12,600,000,000 is the actual outlay since July 1, 1917, to meet the multitude of big bills run up for the army, the navy, the shipbuilding programme, aeroplane construction, coast defence requirements, other Government activities and the needs of the Allies for American loans to finance purchases of war materials.

With the addition of the $1,200,000,000 which the Government spent in the three months of war preceding this fiscal year, the war's cost in money to date has been $13,800,000,000. War activities are now draining about $8,000,000,000 a day from the nation's public treasury and in June the running expenses were greater than ever before. Including estimates for the last two days of the month, not yet recorded, the expenditures for June were about $1,500,000,000.

Owing to the big inflow of income and excess profits taxes this month, the receipts for June have eclipsed all former records. From taxation and other minor sources of revenue, the receipts are expected to amount to more than $2,250,000,000. Payment on Liberty Bonds and certificates of indebtedness have yielded nearly $1,400,000,000.

CANADIAN OFFICER IS AWARDED V. C.

Lieut. L. B. McKean, of Edmonton, Honored for Great Heroism

London, June 29.—Lieut. L. B. McKean, of the Canadian infantry, aged thirty, is the Canadian who has been awarded the Victoria Cross. He enlisted at Edmonton as a private in January, 1915, and won the Military Medal. He was wounded in 1916 and received his commission in May, 1917. He is still in France. His mother lives in Calgary.

Lieut. McKean's party was held up in a communication trench by a most intense fire from grenades and machine guns. Realizing that this block, unless destroyed, might hinder the success of the whole operation, Lieut. McKean, into the open, leaped over the block, on top of the enemy, and when a man rushed at him with the bayonet fixed, McKean shot him through the body and then shot the man underneath him, who was struggling violently. This gallant action enabled the capture of the position.

Lieut. McKean's supply of bombs ran out, and while he was waiting a further supply he engaged the enemy single-handed. On the bombs arriving he fearlessly rushed the second block, killed two Germans, capturing four and driving the remainder with a machine gun into their dugout, which was destroyed. This officer's splendid dash and bravery undoubtedly saved many lives.

Calgary, June 29.—Lieut. B. McKean, of the Canadian forces at the front, who has been awarded the Victoria Cross, is a well-known citizen of Edmonton. He is the assistant pastor of the Robertson Presbyterian Church and had always shown a keen interest in military affairs before he enlisted with the 14th Battalion in 1916. Mrs. McKean, who resides in this city, is one of the private secretaries employed in the office of Major J. M. Carson, Registrar under the Military Service Act.

EXTENSION OF DRAFT AGE IN U. S. AWAITS NEW ARMY PROGRAMME

Washington, June 29.—Rejection of the Fall amendment, proposing extension of the draft age to twenty and forty years respectively, paved the way for passage by the Senate yesterday of the $12,000,000,000 army appropriation bill.

The long discussion over the extension of the draft age, which was considered unnecessary by Secretary of War Baker and General March, Chief of Staff, in statements made before the Senate yesterday, was ended by an adverse vote of forty-nine to twenty-five. The debate on the Fall amendment, as well as one similar amendment, indicated that the majority of members prefer to postpone all efforts to extend the draft ages until the new army programme promised by Secretary Baker is submitted.

SOLDIERS' SETTLEMENT.

Ottawa, June 29.—The Soldiers' Settlement Board announces that a loan advisory board has been named for the Province of Ontario. The personnel is as follows: Chairman, H. C. Scholefield; members, R. S. Hudson, J. B. Ogden, K. C. Douglas Ponton and Fred Dene.

"HEALTHY, WEALTHY AND WISE"

Mr. Henry L. Doherty, a multi-millionaire who wields enormous power in the financial and industrial worlds of America, started his career at the age of twelve as a newspaper-seller. At twenty-seven he was the manager of a syndicate of engineering concerns.

At forty-seven his present age—he is one of America's richest men—Mr. Doherty has summed up his philosophy of life and business as follows:

"Think straight and clear."

"Make a game out of your work."

Traders Were Out of the Market for the Week-End

New York, June 29.—The news was good to-day, but traders were not disposed to make new commitments for over Sunday. The market was quiet and little change was made from yesterday. New York, June 29.—The news was good to-day, but traders were not disposed to make new commitments for over a week. The market for wheat and other grains was quiet, but a slight change was made from yesterday. The market for copper attracted a certain amount of buying. American Smelter and Refining was the only one of the big companies in the Pacific made up the point lost in the market for copper.

Oats and flax and barley prices were unchanged. Offerings in all grains were light. The crop outlook is more promising this week-end on reports of good rains all over the country. The market here will be closed Monday.

Oats closed $\frac{1}{2}$ lower for July and $\frac{1}{2}$ lower for August. Barley closed $\frac{1}{2}$ lower for October and $\frac{1}{2}$ lower for November. Flax closed $\frac{1}{2}$ lower for October and $\frac{1}{2}$ lower for November.

FIFTEEN CARLOADS OUT

Prices of Strawberries to the Trade at Present Time: High Quotations for Jam Berries.

Wholesalers are paying $3 a crate for field berries, and $2.55 per crate for Gordon Head berries to-day, the prices to the retailers being $3.50 and $3 respectively. The reason for this situation is that as the season advanced the field berries are stated to hold up better. The season, J. H. Sutton, Secretary of the Saanich Association, stated to-day, will run for another two weeks.

To date fifteen carloads have gone from the two districts to the prairies. There is a tremendous demand for berries for jam, and it is stated that sixteen cents a pound has been offered, but all contracts were already awarded. This exceptional figure for preserving was quoted yesterday by an eastern firm of jam manufacturers.

ST. GEORGE'S SCHOOL

Big Gathering Attends Prizegiving at Girls' School Yesterday.

The Bishop of Columbia and Mrs. Schofield presented the prizes to the pupils at St. George's School yesterday before a large gathering of parents, visitors and children on the beautiful lawn amid sylvan surroundings.

Discipline was the theme touched upon by the Bishop in his remarks to whom after the prizes had been distributed by Mrs. Schofield and himself three hearty cheers led by the head of the school were given. Mrs. Stuttle, The Staff, The Old Girls were all given rousing cheers. Then tea was served on the lawn.

An important session—Notice of the annual convention of the Union of British Columbia Municipalities at Port Moody in September contains the information that special attention will be given to the question of classification of municipalities in the new Municipal Act. Hon. Dr. MacLaren, Dr. Vrooman, superintendent of the Trans-Quille Sanatorium, and Thomas Adams, town planning expert, have accepted invitations to address the convention.

Mayor's Engagements.—On Wednesday the Council will sit as a special committee to deal with a long list of business reported for consideration, on Thursday evening the Welcome Club meeting will be held, and on Friday his Worship goes to Nanaimo to participate in the meeting of the Associated Boards of Trade of the Island. These meetings are in addition to the usual Council and committee meetings.

Both Sides Prepare Case.—The City Council's case, based on the expenditure by-law which sets out payment for various offices, is being prepared by the City Solicitor for presentation to the Council of the Legislature on Thursday. The Civic Employees' Trade Association proposes to ask leave of the Council for three of its members to attend the sessions, and present the employees' side of the case.

THE PURIFIER

Herewith Lord Colwyn, first baron, the noted India-rubber and cotton manufacturer and director of collieries, has recently consented to act as chairman of the committee appointed to inquire into the suggested amalgamation of various great banking concerns. Lord Colwyn's own banking interests include a directorship of the Lancashire and Yorkshire Bank.

I once heard Lord Colwyn tell a funny story of a certain solemn individual who said to a man he had just met: "My friend, have you ever done anything to make the community the better for your living in it?"

"I have done much, sir," replied the other earnestly, "to purify the homes of my fellow-men."

"Ah," said the solemn one, rubbing his hands, "do you distribute tracts, may I ask?"

"No," said the other, "I distribute soap."

There are two questions agitating Europe, and indeed the world, at the present moment, which it is decidedly difficult to separate. The first of these is Russia, the second is the Jugo-Slav. The interdependence between these is, indeed, so intimate that it is impossible to discuss the one without perpetually running into the other.

At the moment you touch the Russian question, you necessarily and inevitably touch the Polish question, and the moment you touch the Jugo-Slav question, you raise the whole question of the relation of Russia to the Balkans, and more than this, of the integrity of the Austro-Hungarian Empire.

Important as the whole Slav question has always been, it is only since the war began, and since the war aims of the Central Powers were openly declared, that the significance of the Jugo-Slav question has been forced upon the world.

In the pre-war days, when the Russian Colossus gave German statesmen sleepless nights, and bound together the Magyar and Austrian in a way nothing else could, the Slav question was one which, as a matter of practical politics, was confined to the Balkans.

The march of the Russian Empire, and was summed up in the term, the Russian menace. When, however, the plans of the Russian Empire for their part of the world were given to the world, in a concrete shape, it became perfectly clear that the centre of gravity of the Russian Empire had shifted from Petrograd to Berlin.

Russian Colossus proved to have felt of the purest clay, and was toppled into the dust, the Jugo-Slav question assumed an entirely different aspect. Vienna, it was seen, intending itself servant to obey the behests of Berlin, had staked the future of the Hapsburg Empire on a single die.

It is doubtful to those best acquainted with the situation, whether the Russian Empire, whether with an Imperial crown or a Phrygian cap on his head, can ever be re-seated on the wall from which he fell some year and a half ago.

Force, already, the allied statesmen are having to take into consideration the Russian Empire, and the new Russia against an Austria by Germany or Austria in the future. And the war in which measures for this are being taken, and more to be discussed, is through the new kind of Polish state as a buffer between the German Powers and Russia.

ARTHUR JACKSON HAS ELDEST SON OF MEMBER FOR THE ISLANDS DIES IN FRANCE

The extremely distressing intelligence reached Mr. and Mrs. M. B. Jackson, this morning to the effect that their eldest son, Arthur, succumbed on June 19 to wounds received in action on the western front recently.

The young man, nineteen years of age and left this city with one of the University units recruited for the Western Universities Battalion into whose ranks he stepped directly from High School at the age of seventeen.

Arthur was born at Hamilton, Man., and received his education at the High School and University School in this city. He was a wide circle of friends who will receive the news of his death with sincere regret.

SAYS GHOST OF SACHT WILL BEAT TATTOO ON CLEMENS SLUMBERS

J. E. Armishaw, of Sayward,
Vancouver Island, Replies to Member for Comox-Atlin

Declaring that Hans Otto Sach, postmaster at Sayward, Vancouver Island, was a Dane and not a German, H. S. Clements, Federal member for Comox-Atlin, issued a statement to the press in Vancouver on Monday last in refutation of the charges made by J. E. Armishaw, J. P., against himself and the man Sach. It will be recalled that the matter was taken up recently by the local branch of the Great War Veterans' Association and a decision arrived at to lift the matter to the bottom. Since that time little mention has been made of the alleged difficulties existing between the good people of Sayward and the gentleman of alleged Teutonic origin and sympathy.

A Schleswig-Holsteiner?
In reply to the claim of Mr. Clements that Sach was born in the captured Province of Schleswig-Holstein, or Danish parents, and that the father of the postmaster fought for Danish arms against the Prussians, Mr. Armishaw claims that in Sach's application for naturalization papers on file in Victoria he styled himself a German, and that this is also the case with his brother.

Patriotic Work.
That Mr. Sach and his wife contribute their quota to the patriotic labors of the community is another claim made by Mr. Clements. To this Mr. Armishaw replies in a statement from the officers of the local Patriotic Society, which says in part:

"Having read Mr. Clements' support of Hans Otto Sach, our postmaster, as published in the Vancouver Daily Province, I wish to say that his statement is grossly misleading. As to Mr. Sach being a German, we say that he has always claimed that he was a German. Neither his wife nor any of his family take any interest whatever in any movement which has for its object helping to win the war. We are both members of the Patriotic Association in this district, and take an active part in its work."

The above is signed by Nellie Hern and by Jane Armishaw.
Community Against Sach.
In further observations on the subject to The Times Mr. Armishaw deals with the statement of Mr. Clements wherein he claims that no complaint had been recorded against Sach save from himself, Armishaw, and Mr. Hern. He proceeds: "This is not true. A petition signed by thirty-six residents asking that the position be taken from Sach, and given to a returned soldier provides the proof." It should be mentioned here that the number of registrants at Sayward under the national registration scheme totalled forty-four, of whom five were visitors. Thirty-six petitioners may therefore be regarded as the whole community.

Hans Voted Against It.
On Monday last Mr. Armishaw states that a public meeting was called and attended by a representative from every family and a resolution was passed unanimously, the terms of which called for the resignation of Mr. Sach, from the position of postmaster. He is also quoted as saying that the matter was not in their hands, but in the sole jurisdiction of the Dominion Government. In support of the general sentiment prevalent throughout the community the underlined statement is made by a well-known farmer of the district in the person of Thomas Horn, which says in part:

"I have read Mr. H. S. Clements' reply in The Daily Province supporting our postmaster and wish to state that his reply is misleading and does not state the facts as they exist here. With regard to Mr. Sach being a Dane, I have known him for the past twenty years, and he has always been a Dane. His family language is German; both himself and his family use the German language in our Post Office. With regard to his patriotic help, I have never known him to take any interest in such work or give any support in any way."

Why the Secrecy.
Mr. Armishaw states that when in Vancouver recently he had a conference with Mr. Clements, the latter asking whether it would do if he were to write to Ottawa with a view of settling the matter. "I told him that he might write thousands of letters but they would be useless if he had an arrangement with the Department," said Mr. Armishaw to The Times. "Mr. Clements told me to come to his office in the morning when he would show me a copy of the letter for Ottawa. I went and saw the letter," proceeded Mr. Armishaw, "and the gist of it said that since he, Mr. Clements, had returned from Ottawa he found that Post had admitted to the opening of his (Mr. Clements') mail. He also stated in his letter that I was holding public meetings and appeared to be creating considerable sympathy. Then to conclude Mr. Clements asked that if in the opinion of the Department there was sufficient evidence to have Sach removed he would recommend a returned, disabled soldier for the post."

Peculiar Action.
"But Mr. Clements was very particular," Mr. Armishaw recalled, "that I should give him my word that the letter or its purport should not be published and I gave it to him, believing him to be taking the stand that was necessary to meet the case. No sooner had I returned to Sayward, however, than Mr. Clements gave an interview to The Province in strange contrast to the copy of the letter he had shown to me in Vancouver. In view of this action by Mr. Clements I have no compunction in permitting the public to know exactly what is taking place with regard to this German postmaster. What is more," concluded Mr. Armishaw, "the member for Comox-Alberni will find the ghost of Sayward's German postmaster beating a tattoo on his slumbers when he is in Ottawa at the next session of the Federal House."

RE-GRADING SHOULD BE GRATIS TO CITY

Compensation Damages Have
No Right to Exist, Says
Alderman Sargent

Municipalities should seek legislation to prevent damage suits for regrading operations, Alderman Sargent stated to the Civic Streets Committee yesterday, when the aldermen were considering regarding of Pandora Avenue. He pointed out they had already had an expensive compensation suit on the street, and that a consumer had been given for the carrying out of an improvement.

The Mayor: "Twenty-seven times too much."
Alderman Sargent continuing, said that when streets were regraded in the public interest no damages should attach to adjacent properties.

The aldermen all agreed with the principle enunciated by the Mayor. City Engineer Rust had submitted alternative proposals for the regrading, which report had been sought at the request of the Local Improvement Commissioners. To give a five-and-a-half per cent. grade from Cook Street to Fort Street would cost, he said, $25,000, and a three-and-a-half per cent. grade would entail an expense of $110,000. The great expense was due to the large amount of rock to be removed, in making a street to the full width.

The aldermen thought it might not be necessary to take the ten feet off the hill at Chambers Street, and that a gradual rising grade could be devised from cutting five feet off the crest of the hill, and running back on a fill to the level ground. This course the Mayor strongly endorsed.

The Commissioners had asked Aldermen Sangster and Porter to investigate whether the street frontagers would be willing to waive compensation claims before any expenditure is involved. Until that is known, no action will be taken.

Oak Bay Avenue.
The Council will not order 100 tons of asphalt for the proposed surfacing of Oak Bay Avenue until the necessary petition from owners has been received.

The City Engineer asked that authority should be given to place an order of this kind. Meanwhile the Purchasing Agent is to secure tenders for the material.

TO SPEAK ON THURSDAY
Visiting Representatives of Canada Food Board Will Be Here for Few Hours.

F. W. Stewart, Honorary Chairman of the Conservation Publicity Section, and Mr. Frederick Abraham, Honorary Chairman of the Vacant Lots and Home Gardens Section of the Canada Food Board, are making a tour of western Canada to further the Dominion-wide food campaign. They will be in Victoria on Thursday next.

At every place on their itinerary they hope to address meetings arranged by the divisional representatives of the Conservation Publicity Section. This is a sub-section of the Food Board which has enlisted the ready co-operation of nearly 30,000 retail merchants throughout Canada. There are twenty-five divisional representatives—all voluntary workers—who work through between twenty and sixty committees in the cities and towns of their respective areas, these also being in every case unpaid workers who regard what they do as a war contribution.

Both Mr. Stewart and Mr. Abraham are well-known to business men, and are prominent in Montreal. Mr. Stewart is general manager for Canada and resident director of Cluett, Peabody & Co. Inc. is also president of the Montreal Publicity Association. Mr. Abraham is among the most widely-known of men in Canadian publishing houses. He is honorary president

A GOOD APPETITE A GREAT BLESSING

The Occasional Use of a Tonic
Will Ensure a Good Appetite and Good Health.

Loss of appetite during the summer months is a common trouble, and indicates that the digestive system is out of order. Lacking a healthy appetite many people—especially women—go too long without food, or eat sparingly because food seems to distress them, and it is no wonder they complain of being constantly tired and unable to stand the hot weather. All this simply means that the digestive system is not doing its proper work and that the food is not being distributed to the various organs of the body. In other words the blood is growing thin and watery. In such cases what is needed is a summer tonic, and among all medicines there is no tonic can equal Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. Take a short treatment with these pills and notice how promptly your appetite returns and your power to digest food improves. Your food will then do you good, your strength will return, and you will no longer complain that the hot weather tries you out. Mrs. M. Kelly, Windsor, Ont., says:—"I suffered from indigestion for several years, and although I was constantly taking doctor's prescriptions they did not cure me, and the result was that I was greatly run down, and always feeling poorly. Finally I was advised to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and as I soon found they were helping me I continued their use until I was fully cured, and am now able to properly digest my food. As a tonic and blood-builder I know of no medicine to equal Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and I recommend them to all in need of a medicine."

The best time to begin taking Dr. Williams' Pink Pills is the moment you feel the least bit out of sorts. The sooner you do so the sooner you will regain your old-time energy. You can get these pills through any medicine dealer or by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.
